Council to consider rate hike requests

Georgetown City Councilmen are expected to pass one utility increase and will hear a request for another when they meet Monday at 7 p. m. in the Council Room at City Hall.

The Council is also scheduled to examine the results of the 1974-75 audit of city books, open bids for construction of a raw water intake structure at North Fork Lake, and consider allocating $1735.25 to match a state law enforcement grant.

CARL KINSLOW, Customer Services Manager of the General Telephone Company's La Grange office, will appear before the council to explain why his company wants a 2.72% hike in its net income from the Georgetown-Jarrell exchange.

Kinslow submitted a 16-page document to the Council October 29 detailing the request, which would involve generation of $106,392 additional gross income from the exchange each month.

According to Kinslow, GenTel simply is not realizing a fair return on its investment in this area.

GENTEL'S PROPOSAL would raise telephone rates in Georgetown and Jarrell as follows:

BUSINESS TELEPHONE RATES —

- One-party business lines would rise from $14.00 to $20.50 per month.
- Two-party, from $11.60 to $18.50.
- Key lines, from $14.00 to $27.50.
- PBX lines, from $24.50 to $41.05.
- Rural four-party business lines, from $15.45 to $20.50.

RESIDENTIAL RATES —

- One-party residential, from $6.55 to $7.90 per month.
- Two-party, from $5.50 to $7.10 per month.
- Four-party, from $4.20 to $6.70 per month.
- Rural four party, from $7.25 to $7.90 per month.

Costs for unlisted numbers, pay telephones, and miscellaneous expensed would remain stable.

Sample copy edition of Thursday's SUN

The Thursday issue of the Williamson County Sun will be a "sample copy" edition, widely circulated in West Williamson County.

A special Christmas subscription offer will be made by the SUN in this issue and area merchants can take advantage of the extra circulation to tell the public about their Christmas values.

the passing glance

By Don Scarbrough

I hope we can get several qualified people to run for Wes Johnson's vacated chair on the County Commissioner's Court. At one time the people selected their commissioners simply to keep the county roads in good repair, but that concept is long gone.

THE COMMISSIONERS, collectively and individually, must deal with complicated problems — lots of them — that involve hundreds of thousands of dollars and the quality of life of all the county's inhabitants. It is essential that we have the best men possible for these jobs of leadership.

Our county budget long ago hit the million dollar mark. My idea of electing a commissioner would be to consider his qualifications the same as I would if I had a million dollar business and was looking for a man to run it.

The Pirates finally managed to jump on somebody their own size and emerged the winner, downing Sam Houston State 67-63. And, while this was going on, the Eagles nipped Texas School for the Deaf in an Austin tournament 70 to 67.

WHAT THIS MEANS, of course, is that football season for the amateurs is heaving its last breath, or just about, and basketball season is in full bloom. So, take advantage of the opportunity to see some excellent, exciting round-ball and support your home town program.

Of course, we still have a lot of football on the tube, with the collegiates moving into the bowls and the pros headed for the great showdown.

President Ford has departed China, leaving all us a mite better informed on that vast nation and its aging leaders. Up to now we have known virtually nothing, now we know a little. Our correspondents have seen what their hosts wanted them to see, little more. What we have seen on the tube is fascinating but I question that it is very illuminating. It would be interesting indeed to be able to actually travel across that enourmous country and see what an age of communism has done for or to its citizenry.

At County Commissioners meeting

Monday public hearing to approve raises

Increases in salaries for county employees will be discussed during a public hearing at the Commissioners' Court Monday at 10 a.m.

While almost all salaries will be upped by $40 per month, provisions have been made for some employees to receive a special salary adjustment not to exceed $140 monthly. This special adjustment will apply to some area justices of the peace, including Taylor Justice J. K. Harkins. Harkins had previously announced he would resign unless his pay is increased.

WILLIAMSON COUNTY AMBULANCE Service salaries and work schedules will be discussed during the meeting. Pay scales for attendants in the county service now range from $565 to $650 monthly.

Ambulance crews work 48 consecutive hours, followed by 48 hours off.

Emergency Care Attendants receive 32 hours training from Emergency Medical Attendants (EMT's). Medical doctors specializing in various fields train the EMT's for 80 classroom hours and 40 hours in a hospital and on the field.

THE COMMISSIONERS will consider opening bids at 10 a.m. Thursday for heating and air conditioning systems for the old Farmers' State Bank building, west of the square on Austin Avenue. Advertising for bids for repairs on the building will be considered during the regular meeting. The bank building is being remodeled to house offices for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Considerations to advertise for bids for a gravel trailer for Precinct Three, Granger, and one truck and one pickup for Precinct One, Georgetown, will also be made Monday.

Sheriff Bosshard will appear before the Commissioners to submit specifications on two new cars for his department, a preparatory step in drawing up bids to advertise for the vehicles if the Commissioners approve the proposals.

Local lawyer Joe McMaster is also scheduled to appear before the Court to request abandonment of utility easements between two lots in Oak Crest Subdivision.

REPRESENTATIVES FROM the Southwest Milam Water Supply Corporation, present during the November 24 court, will present a request to cross several eastern Williamson County roads to lay water lines.

Commissioners will also consider accepting improvements made on road No. 401 in Precinct Four, Taylor. Increasing mileage resulting in added travel expenses for the County Trapper, who traps dangerous and nuisance animals such as wolves and coyotes in Williamson County, will be discussed.

Increasing the "change fund" for county offices, used to make change for persons paying cash fines, and use of a copying machine by the County Historical Committee are two additional items on the Monday agenda.

Santa is coming

The refrain of that favorite old song, "Santa Claus is coming to town," will take on special meaning again Thursday afternoon when that very thing takes place in Georgetown.

Santa will arrive high atop a fire truck from which he will distribute candy to Georgetown area youngsters of all ages.

The jolly old elf in the bright red suit will greet children on the Courthouse Square at 4 p. m. Thursday, December 11.

So, as the song goes, "You better watch out, you better not cry, you better not pout, I'm telling you why, Santa Claus is coming to town."

Local home building pace speeded up

The pace of home building in Georgetown during 1975 far exceeds that of 1974 or 1973, according to city Building Inspection reports compiled monthly by Gloria Duffy.

Reports show inspectors Tom Sams and Frank Wininger have issued permits for construction of 117 new homes as of December 1, compared to year-end totals of 66 new dwellings last year and 73 two years ago.

TOTAL VALUE OF NEW CONSTRUCTION within the city limits is also at its highest mark in three years at 5,230,958.

That's more than twice the $2,433,130 figure recorded by the city as of December 1, 1974 and represents Georgetown's best construction year, dollar-wise, since projects worth $4.655 million were okayed in 1972.

LAST MONTH the Building Inspection Department gave the go-ahead to $137,787 worth of new construction, including three new single-family homes valued at $71,400.

The November figure represents a substantial drop from construction value in October ($170,460) and from the total during November of last year ($146,100). But it adds to the assurance of a record-breaking building year.

OTHER TYPES OF NEW CONSTRUCTION approved in November included two commercial starts valued at $54,300, a $7487 sign, and home alterations and additions worth $4600.

May and July have been the best single construction months of 1975 to date.

A new $2 million athletic facility at Southwestern University was approved in May, pushing total construction value that month to $2,377,300.

In July the Gibson discount chain obtained permission to build a $300,000 store, making the total for that month $624,700.

The best quarterly marks were set from April-June ($2,630,450) and July-September ($1,211,675).

Average monthly construction value during 1975 is $475,541.63.

Oman, Woytek to announce for Commissioner's race

David Oman of Hutto and R. J. Woytek of Round Rock have both publically stated their intentions of running for the office of county commissioner — for precinct one, since the news broke that Wesley Johnson does not intend to seek re-election as Commissioner.

David (Red) Oman of Hutto has paid his filing fee and is announcing his bid for the office.

Oman is the 34-year-old manager of the Greenline Chemical Company.

R. J. "Ray" Woytek, a 19-year resident of Williamson County, has not yet officially filed for the Commissioners race.

"PEOPLE HAVE BEEN calling me to know definitely if I was running or not and I told them yes, I was, very definitely," Woytek said, adding that he plans to announce at a later date.

Both men ran against Johnson in the 1972 primary.

Georgetown lawyers Bill Lott and Tim Maresh announced their plans to run for district judge last week. Incumbent Judge Kirby Vance plans to retire when his term expires at the end of next December.

Incumbent tax assessor-collector William P. Buck is making plans to run for re-election during the May 1 primaries, as is the current sheriff, August Bosshard.

Other county elections slated for May include those for county commissioner of precinct three, district attorney and all constables.

Local merchants plan late hours

Do you work hours that leave little time for Christmas buying?

Is that "Christmas feeling" just impossible to get until only a few days remain before the big day?

IF YOU NEED extra time to shop for Christmas gifts evenings before Christmas, whatever your reason, Georgetown stores are working to be sure you get even those last-minute presents in time for your holiday gifting.

Many area stores are regularly open until 8 or 9 p. m., or will be doing so on special days in December.

A NUMBER OF STORES on or around the square will be staying open till 8 p. m. beginning next Thursday. Late hours will be scheduled for December 11, 18, 22 and 23.

Most stores in area shopping centers will be keeping regular hours, often 9 a. m. till 9 p. m., throughout the holiday season.

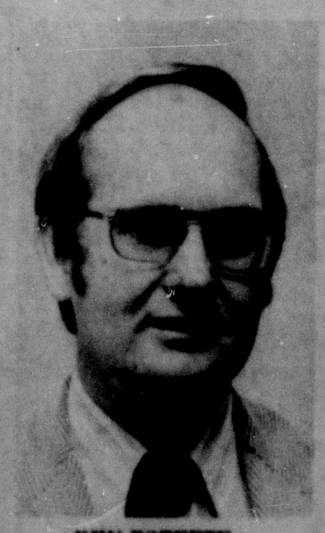

Many stores in the Hospital Shopping Center will be open during regular hours throughout the holiday, as will most of those at the Lakeaire Center.

MANY STORES IN SOUTHWESTERN PLAZA will be keeping their 9 p. m. closing hours while others will extend their hours to about 8:30 p. m. during the days shortly before Christmas.

Purpose is to control the potency

U.S. money grows a marijuana patch—for tests

By the Associated Press

Oxford, Mississippi

For more than 100 marijuana research programs across the nation and overseas, their grass supply is not from the neighborhood "dealer." Instead, it's grown with federal money on a heavily guarded plantation just outside this university town.

This pampered, pedigree marijuana is from the University of Mississippi's five-acre farm, the country's only legal marijuana fields. The crop has been going to researchers at other universities including Columbia, Tulane, Stanford, and Berkeley because scientists desire a standard variety of marijuana that allows experiments at different locations to be compared.

Dr. Carlton Turner, director of the project, said the program also provides marijuana of precisely calibrated strength to aid experiments in countries ranging from Brazil to Great Britain, Norway, and Greece.

Another Ole Miss scientist, Dr. Coy W. Waller, said the Mississippi marijuana project has sought to maintain a "very low profile" since its inception in 1968, partly because of security problems.

Protection around the marijuana plantation and a storage warehouse includes high fences, guards, television monitors and other measures — accounting for some $40,000 of the project's $150,000 budget.

However, Dr. Waller indicated that the calm campus spirit here has helped the project's security.

"This is one of the few campuses where we could get away with our program" without such trouble, the researcher said.

He added: "People in Mississippi have always respected authority. We still have our students saying: 'Yes, sir.' "

The project at Ole Miss also is launching a new effort to monitor the potency of marijuana seized by law-enforcement officers throughout the United Ststes.

Dr. Turner said in an interview at the university's School of Pharmacy that under a grant from the National Institute on Drug Abuse, the program was starting to analyze samples sent to Oxford by the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration from major seizures of marijuana, hashish, and hashish oil.

Dr. Waller, told a Senate panel earlier this year that there was evidence of a continuing increase in the strength of marijuana being used in this country.

Dr. Waller, head of the school's Research Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences, noted recent growth in smuggling of marijuana from Colombia and Jamaica, competing with lesser-strength Mexican cannabis.

He said the concentration of Delta 9-tetrahydrocannabinol (THC) — the prime drug in marijuana — could range up to six percent from some varieties from Brazil, compared with about 1.5 to 2 percent for Mexican marijuana.

The Senate internal security subcommittee plans to hold further hearings in January to examine the marijuana situation. The subcommittee is chaired by Sen. James O. Eastland (D) of Mississippi.

Up thar in Washington

You never know until the details are all worked out, but Treasury Secretary William E. Simon's proposed tax reform program seems to make sense out of today's complicated and unfair scheme.

SIMON WANTS TO ELIMINATE all so-called loopholes and have the U. S. collect an extra $50 billion dollars annually, at the same time lower personal income taxes by about 30 per cent, especially for the people earning less than $50,000 a year!

Wealthy people would pay 35 per cent on all earnings above $50,000. Period. No exemptions. No loopholes. Middle-income families would pay about 10 to 12 per cent and low income families would pay no income taxes.

At the same time, Simon wants to end double-taxation on corporations — once before dividends are sent to stockholders, again on the recipients of those dividends. He says the current tax system "is discouraging savings and investment," and believes his idea would work in the other direction.

Sounds good until you consider that some of those "loopholes" support our churches, our privately endowed colleges and universities, and indeed, do provide capital and incentive for investments and expansion.

BUT IT SURE DOES SEEM that our tax system needs to be simplified so that even newspaper editors can understand it.

There is quite a struggle underway on whether to end the one year federal tax cuts that helped a lot of people weather the economic storm last year, at the same time greatly refueled the economy with a surprising lack of additional inflation.

THE ADMINISTRATION wants to see the tax cuts extended, along with a ceiling on federal spending. The Democrats want to plunge on upward with federal spending. In fact, the Demos won't even let the Republicans offer Ford's idea of a $395 billion ceiling as a part of the measure.

If the tax cuts are not extended the family earning $15,000 a year will pay about $5.00 per week in additional federal taxes, and so on.

Mayors of big American cities met in Miami last week and, among other things, charged that the Nixon and Ford administrations had been and were waging war on the cities!

IT WAS NONE OTHER than Richard Nixon who about four years ago inaugurated the program on Federal Revenue Sharing with cities and counties, a costly scheme that undoubtedly bailed out hundreds from great fiscal difficulties. It's a multibillion dollar adventure and the Miami declaration proves just how little this kind of largess is appreciated.

Wet streets Thursday morn

The gentle rain peppering down on the wet street between the SUN and the courthouse Thursday morning sure looked good!

WE HOPE IT CONTINUES until the ranges are green and the farmers are ready for it to stop. There is one thing we gotta have in Williamson County — and that's rain. It makes the mare go.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Nixon Helped Iran Against Iraq

WASHINGTON — The astonishing story is beginning to leak out of how the United States sacrificed thousands of lives to help the Shah of Iran negotiate a favorable deal with neighboring Iraq.

The Shah was involved in border and navigation disputes with Iraq. He wanted to bring pressure upon the Iraqis by stirring up trouble inside their country.

So the Shah urged the CIA to arm the fierce Kurdish tribes and encourage them to harass the Iraqi army. On four occasions, the CIA rejected the proposal. Three times, the State Department also advised against it.

But in May, 1972, then-President Richard Nixon and his foreign policy advisor, Henry Kissinger, visited Iran. They held a secret meeting with the Shah — just the three of them — and kept alone, behind closed doors.

They struck a deal to support a Kurdish revolt in Iraq. Nixon ignored the objections of the CIA and State Department. At one point, former Treasury Secretary John Connally was dispatched to Iran to tell the Shah personally that the arrangements were ready.

Millions of dollars worth of untraceable Chinese and Soviet arms were shipped through Iran to the Kurds. Suddenly, the fierce tribesmen swarmed out of their mountain hideouts and attacked Iraqi outposts. There were heavy casualties on both sides as the revolt continued.

The Shah, meanwhile, reopened his negotiations with the Iraqis. He offered to end his support of the Kurds if the Iraqis would sign a favorable border settlement. On March 6, 1975, the Shah announced a formal agreement with Iraq.

Immediately, the Shah cut off his support of the Kurdish revolt. The CIA, with Kissinger's blessing, also abandoned the Kurds.

Within a few days, the Kurds were overwhelmed by Iraqi troops. Thousands were slaughtered. An estimated 80,000 Kurdish refugees fled for their lives.

The Kurd's 72-year-old leader, Mustafa Barzani, visited the United States to find out why his people had been abandoned. He was secreted away in a CIA "safe [illegible] and kept totally isolated.

He begged to see Henry Kissinger, but was refused. To top it off, say our sources, Barzani was given a medical checkup while he was in the U.S. and learned that he is afflicted with cancer.

Throughout all their scheming and plotting with the Shah, the Kurds were wary of a doublecross. But United States participation in the affair, they thought, offered them a guarantee.

They were mistaken, it turns out. The Shah got his deal. Kissinger is still pampering the Shah. And the Kurdish people paid with their blood.

Footnote: Henry Kissinger's betrayal of the Kurds, say our sources, was related directly to his Middle East diplomacy. He felt the Iraqis should be freed of their Kurdish problems so they could resume a simmering battle with Syria. This, he felt, would draw Syrian attention away from the pact he was trying to negotiate between the Egyptians and the Israelis.

Battle of the Brass: The various military services have been fighting among each other since the days of the First Continental Army. The Navy is always afraid the Marines are stealing their job; the Air Force doesn't want the Army flying anything but helicopters.

Now there's a new inter-service brouhaha shaping up at the Pentagon. The Navy desperately wants to begin building a fleet of "supercarriers" which will probably cost over a billion dollars apiece. The Admirals would like to get started on their supercarriers with next year's budget.

A number of well-placed Air Force generals, however, have begun talking publicly of their service's ability to take over many Navy missions. Their long-range planes and newly developed air-refueling capabilities, the generals have asserted, eliminate the need for a fleet of supercarriers.

Generally, Defense Department leaders have taken the Air Force view. Former Defense Secretary James Schlesinger, for example, believed the Navy should spend its money on small carriers and not the supercarriers. He directed the Navy brass to prepare a mammoth study on the controversy.

The Admirals, in short, will soon be scrambling for their stripes. The battle promises to be a real bruiser.

Necessary Precaution?: The Secret Service has quietly started running police checks and compiling data banks on volunteer workers for the current presidential candidates.

Campaign spokesmen for Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., and Rep. Mo Udall, D-Ariz., told us they considered the checks a necessary precaution.

Each volunteer is asked to fill out an information form which requests name, birthdate and Social Security number. It is noted on the form that the Social Security number is given optionally and at the request of the Secret Service.

However, the volunteers are not told how closely they will be checked. The files will be destroyed after the campaign.

Embarrassed Gunmen: During a recent routine check, Treasury agents discovered an unlicensed rifle at the headquarters of the National Rifle Association.

A spokesman for the Treasury said the infraction was a violation of the Federal Firearms Act. The rifle is currently being traced.

An embarrassed NRA spokesman told us the rifle was deactivated after the violation was discovered. He added that it had been removed from the display area.

Bourgeois Tastes: Russian diplomats in Washington apparently find it difficult to practice the communist life style they preach. Our survey of Soviet diplomatic cars reveals the Russians prefer the General Motors line, from Cadillacs to Vegas. Chrysler products are second most popular, and Ford vehicles rank third. A very few Soviet diplomats own small foreign cars, and as best we could determine, not a single one of them drives a Soviet-made automobile.

Until all Americans are forced to surrender their guns, you can still shoot a robber inside your home.

Cynically it's been suggested that if you shoot him outside, you should drag him back inside before you telephone the police. Since British common law, the inside of your home is your own.

BUT WOULD YOU BELIEVE that there are members of Congress trying right now to pass a law for the protection of prowlers!

Watch the back door.

Not all of the laws shackling cops and encouraging criminals can be blamed on the old Earl Warren Supreme Court.

There is an effort right now in the U.S. Congress to revise the Federal Criminal Code.

A bunch of congressmen — who seem always to want less law enforcement—now want to make it a federal law that if you shoot a prowler in your home YOU go to jail.

As is, the law assumes that when somebody forcibly breaks into your home you can shoot him.

THESE CONGRESSMEN THINK you should run instead. And that if you do shoot the prowler you should be charged with murder.

Already a Senate subcommittee has endorsed this noxious notion. So Senate Bill No. 1 and House Bill No. 3907 — if they should become law — would supersede any state laws to the contrary.

If you confront the congressmen who are advocating this further surrender of YOUR rights in favor of the rights of wrongdoers, they'll profess concern that juveniles who intend "nothing more serious than vandalism" might be shot on the spot.

They say homeowners are likely to "overreact" to nighttime intruders.

Instead, the homeowner should retreat. Lock himself in his bedroom, crawl under the bed and wait while the cute kids slash the curtains, spray-paint the walls, steal what they want and set fire to what's left.

TO QUOTE DICKENS, "If the law supports that, the law is an ass and an idiot."

And so are the members of Congress who are supposed to be representing YOU and YOUR interests.

Yet when a Tampa Tribune editorial focused its readers' attention on this newest assault on your rights — the total reader response was two telephone calls and one letter.

I hope other readers mailed the editorial to their congressional representatives.

Austin Notebook

AUSTIN — Gov. Dolph Briscoe is in a fuss with some of the State Capitol reporters who were unkind enough to check on and report on how many days he had been away from the Capitol.

Briscoe got support from the man in the street who wrote a letter to the editor saying, in the true spirit of the 1876 Constitution which Briscoe helped retain, that "we'd be a lot better off if the governor, the Legislature and all of the rest of the state officials would stay away from Austin."

Briscoe told the Texas Farm Bureau that he plans to spend even more time away from Austin in 1976, listening to the people of Texas.

But he did not revive the idea he announced a couple of years ago with much fanfare. That was to have a "traveling governor's office." It was to have been a camper of some sort. Members of the governor's staff would occupy it. In the course of a year, they would visit every courthouse square in Texas, to answer questions the people might have. The governor himself would occupy the "traveling office" from time to time, the announcement said.

After the announcement, some-one undoubtedly pointed out that with 254 counties and only 260 working days in a year, it would be hard to spend even a day at each of the courthouses, if you allow travel time between them.

At any rate, if the traveling office has ever traveled, it hasn't been heard of back in the brush here in Austin.

Briscoe contended that the news item about the many working days he spent away from Austin was exaggerated.

But there is hard evidence that he was absent not only from Austin, but also from Texas, for what the books appear to say either 27.3 or 27.69 days.

The constitution provides that when the governor is out of the state, the lieutenant governor is to collect pay at the same rate as the governor.

The governor's rate of pay during that year was $63,000, which would be $175 a day if you figure a 360-day year, or $172.60 if you figure a 365-day year.

The Legislature had provided $10,000 for paying the lieutenant governor and the senators who act as governor when both Briscoe and Lieut. Gov. Bill Hobby are out of the state.

During the year which ended Aug. 31, Comptroller Bob Bullock's as-yet unpublished figures indicate, $4,779 was paid out of that fund. That would be 27.69 days at $172.60 or 27.3 days at $175 a day.

But it's certain that the fellow was wrong when he said the state would be better off if Briscoe would stay away from Austin more — if he means staying away in England and places like that. Because he keeps getting the $175 or $172.60 whether he's in Texas or not. If he just stays away in Uvalde, Hobby gets nothing at all, and that is perhaps a saving.

Briscoe appears to contend that when he checks out of Austin Thursday afternoon or Friday with Uvalde as his destination, he may go by way of Dallas or Paducah to make a speech and hear what the people are saying. And when he comes back to Austin Monday he does so by way of El Paso or Texarkana, so he's on the job even though he may show in the flight logs of his state-owned airplane that he left Austin for Uvalde and then left Uvalde for Austin.

Time was when Gov. James V. Allred had a news conference every morning, except on the occasions when he was out of town.

Capitol newsmen aren't burning for a return to those "good old days", but they would settle for a chance to talk to the governor a little oftener than every 61 days.

Dear Santa Claus

My name is Darrell and I am 4½ years old. My daddy is writting this letter for me. I have been a pretty good boy all year long, most of the time anyway. I would like a Big Wheel, a fire truck, a motorcycle, bicycle, a jeep, a trailer and truck, a boat, a new tractor and some play-do and a racer with tracks and some clothes. Thank you Santa.

Student artists display works at Southwestern

Some 50 works in various media, including paintings, drawings and sculpture and spanning the collegiate careers of two student artists in the School of Fine Arts at Southwestern University, are presented for public viewing this month in the Gallery of the Alma Thomas Fine Arts Center. Exhibitors are Donald S. (Steve) Benton of Georgetown and Brownwood and Erik Bruce Harpst of Houston, both candidates for graduation in art on Dec. 19. They have studied with Guss Farmer, Claude Kennard, Audrey McClinchie and David Everett, all of the art faculty in the School of Fine Arts at Southwestern University, and with the late R. L. (Bob) Lancaster, sculptor.

Benton, majoring in studio art and minoring in art history for a bachelor of fine arts degree with painting, drawing and sculpture as areas of concentration, has exhibited his works in shows on the campus and in various sections of the state, including Amarillo, Cameron, Georgetown and elsewhere.

In addition to his academic work, Benton is also owner of the Driftwood Gallery and Frame Shop, 1201 E. Church Street, Georgetown. Prior to enrolling at Southwestern University, he studied at Tyler Junior College and Texas Tech University, Lubbock. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Benton, Star Route 3, Brownwood.

Harpst, majoring in art for the Bachelor of Fine Arts degree with painting, drawing and sculpture as areas on concentration, has had his works on view in various student shows. Born in The Hague, Netherlands, where his father was associated with Shell Oil Company, Harpst studied art in public schools in Palos Verdes, Calif., New Orleans, La., Garden City, New York, and Midland, Texas.

Among Harpst's works are metal, clay, plaster and wood sculpture; acrylic paintings; and pastel, charcoal, ballpoint pen and pencil drawings, plus a watercolor-pencil drawing.

Harpst, a member of Iota Chapter of Kappa Sigma fraternity, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Harpst, 10302 Green Tree, Houston.

Musical shows realities of Christian life

The young people of the First Baptist Church of Georgetown will present the Christian folk musical "Real" at the church tonight (Sunday) at 7 p. m.

About 30 young men and women have been practicing for several months on the musical. There have been tentative plans to present the program at other schools and churches in the area.

"Real" is the outgrowth of a church-group tour made by the youth of a San Antonio church. The setting for "Real" represents a practice session for a musical as the young people experience the highs and lows in their search for a Christian life.

The general public is invited to attend. Several other churches in Georgetown plan to bring their youth to the program tonight, according to the church's pastor, the Rev. Al Cummings.

Hutto school trustees discuss proposed classroom complex

Hutto trustees met Thursday night to discuss the sale of bonds and renovation and construction at the school.

The board discussed the present renovation of restrooms by Pokorny Construction Company of Taylor. It was decided that a new roof will have to be installed before work can be completed.

Plans for a classroom complex to be attached to the vocational building have been drawn up and the school board is waiting to hear from the architect. The complex will contain home economics classrooms plus several other classrooms separated by sliding doors, that can be enlarged into one large area, 30 feet by 60 feet. Restrooms, a cafetorium and library are also part of the complex.

Athletic dressing rooms are also in the planning stages.

The average daily attendance for the Hutto School District for the first quarter of the year was 257.536 students for the regular program. This is approximately 28 students higher than this time last year.

The board voted to take the money for the buses out of the transportation fund and place it in a savings account until the buses arrive in the spring. They also decided to place a sum from the general operating checking account in savings.

Named to the Textbook Committee for the 1975-76 school year at a special called meeting November 25 were Isham Coward, Kirby Priest, LaVona Wilkinson, Nadine Johnson, Grace Cole, Deanna Fate, Chester Hedrick, Ellen Morris, Cheryl Towns, Clifton Pepper and Karen Pekar.

Members present were Norman Fuessel, Frank Kruse, Gus Almquist, M. A. Barnes Jr., Edward Lantzsch and Larry Rydell. Also present were Isham Coward, superintendent, Patt Gantt and David Oman.

The trustees plan to meet with their architect at 7 p.m. Wednesday, December 10, if arrangements can be made.

Joe Buchanan led Southwestern scorers with 15 points while Georgetown's Steve Doering, Michael Minks and Dennis each had ten. Also helping the Bucs with a balanced scoring attack were Jimmy Duffield and Dick Pool with eight points apiece and Hutto's Tommy Johnson with six.

Three Sam Houston players hit in the double figures with James Holcombe netting 18 points, Billy Froechtenicht 14, and Melvin Moore 13.

John Doe ?

During the last war Kilroy was the name of the man who had been there. John Doe, the encyclopedia tells us, is the name used in legal documents to describe a person whose real name is unknown.

You do not know the name of this darling baby, and his name may be unknown to us, but in his eyes dwell love and trust. His eyes are like doe-eyes. Yet the male deer is a young buck, rather than a doe, and he is known for his swift running and his ability to jump to high places.

Our prayer for this young man is this:

May the Lord strengthen and stablish you. Then as Isaiah says in the 6th verse of the 33rd Chapter, wisdom and knowledge shall be the stability of thy times, and strength of salvation: the fear of the Lord is his treasure."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH ... THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

Florence trustees slate meeting

Another look at the progress of the Vocational Building faces the Florence School Board at their regular scheduled meeting Monday at 6:30 p. m.

The building, scheduled to be finished over a month ago, is nearing completion, said school superintendent Lee Roy Knauth. "All that's left to do is put up partitions in the restrooms," Knauth said.

THE BOARD WILL EXAMINE its policy concerning alcohol at school activities. The present policy only pertains to athletic functions, and, according to Knauth, "It will probably be expanded to include all school related activities, and traveling to and from those activities."

—0—

Knauth will ask the board to consider selling the old agriculture building along with excess vocational tools and equipment.

Board members plan to appoint a textbook committee to study and recommend new textbooks to the School Board.

—0—

IN HIS REPORT to the board, Knauth will present information on the number of transfer students to the school district and a report from the State Building Commission.

Mrs. Lansford selected for music committee

Mrs. Jane Lansford of the music faculty in the School of Fine Arts at Southwestern University has been selected to serve on the music committee of the Southwest Texas Conference of the United Methodist Church.

In addition to her teaching duties at Southwestern University, Mrs. Lansford, a gifted and skilled pianist and organist, is organist for the Memorial United Methodist Church in Austin. She is also director of the Preparatory Music Department in the School of Fine Arts at Southwestern University.

Mrs. Lansford serves frequently as adjudicator for contests and competition in the music field. Joining the music faculty at Southwestern University in 1971, Mrs. Lansford, assistant professor of piano, was formerly a member of the piano faculty at John Brown University in Arkansas and the University of Arkansas.

A recipient of a bachelor of fine arts degree (magna cum laude) from Southwestern University and a master of music degree with a concentration in piano from the University of Arkansas, Mrs. Lansford (the former Jane Nelms) has also studied at the American School, Fontainebleau, France.

SCHOLARSHIP NOMINEE — Glen Clarkson of Georgetown portrayed the villainous "Dickson" in the Southwest Texas Junior College production of "The Scarecrow." He was one of the two students nominated for an Irene Ryan Scholarship recently at the American College Theater Festival regional contest in San Marcos.

Georgetown hosts city managers workshop

Georgetown played host Wednesday to 14 Central Texas city officials gathered for a workshop on management training for small cities.

City Manager Leo Wood and Asst. City Manager W. L. Walden welcomed the guests to the San Gabriel Neighborhood Facility and represented Georgetown at the session. Mr. Wood is president of Region Seven of the Texas Municipal League (TML).

Sponsored by TML and two other city management organizations, the workshop dealt with various aspects of municipal affairs, training including:

— administrative law
— finance and fiscal relations
— personnel administration
— planning in the small city
— public works
— public safety: the police function
— public safety: the firefighting function
— parks and recreation
— public relations
— human services

Conducting the workshop were John Cutzinger, Training Coordinator for the City of Dallas, and Gary Watkins, a TML administrative assistant.

Cutzinger and Watkins used materials written for the International City Managers Association (ICMA) by city administrators, to demonstrate techniques of municipal management.

"The idea of the workshop," Cutzinger explained, "is to help city administrators conduct training in these areas for their own department heads.

"Frequently," he continued, "small cities just don't have the resources to send their officials to far-away training seminars every so often.

"Hopefully, this kind of in-house training conducted by the city manager and his department heads will get more people involved in the decision-making process.

"The program is designed to make department heads, such as your fire chief and police chief, more aware of what other departments are doing so they can coordinate their actions on given projects.

"It is also supposed to keep any one department from operating independently of all the others in the city," said Cutzinger.

The goal of the program, he said, "is to make the various city departments more a team, able to act together."

City Manager Leo Wood commented about the workshop, "We basically follow this program anyway and have for years.

"It's difficult to stay with the program as a whole, but the TML materials are helpful and I think Mr. Cutzinger and Mr. Watkins gave everybody some good ideas.

"It's a good training program, kind of a refresher," Wood added.

He said the program dealt mainly with tenchiques of city administration rather than with law.

Wednesday's workshop was one of nine held in Texas this year, sponsored by TML, the ICMA, and the Texas City Managers Association (TCMA).

Attending from elsewhere in Central Texas were:

George Ferrell, City Manager, Belton
Jack Tippet, City Manager, Burnet
Ray Bennet, City Manager, Lockhart
W. C. Keaghy, City Manager, Giddings
Bill Cox, City Manager, Bastrop
Cleve Ferguson, Director of Public Works, Mexia
W. L. Van De Weghe, Director of Planning, Mexia
Robert Butler, City Manager, Mexia
E. N. Delashmutt, Asst. City Manager, Mexia

CANCER ANSWER LINE

American Cancer Society
M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute

A fashion model asks: "Should all moles be removed? I have a 'beauty spot' near my mouth. It is kind of a trademark, but, I worry about cancer."

ANSWERline: Hang on to that trademark because all moles don't automatically have to be removed. However, you should be alert to any change in your mole's size or color. If you notice anything, check with your physician.

A teacher asks: "How can I get the facts about cancer in our particular state for a class project?"

ANSWERline: Your local American Cancer Society Unit has a booklet entitled "Cancer Facts & Figures" that will be quite a help. It is free of charge.

Florence City Council awaiting recommendation from Water Quality Board

In a report from Councilman David Merideth, Florence City Council learned Tuesday night that the Texas Water Quality Board is still considering Florence's request for aid with city sewers.

According to Merideth, the decision will not be made until after the first of the year. Florence is seeking a recommendation from the Board to help obtain $19,000 in federal monies from the Environmental Protection Agency.

City Manager Lum Clark has received information on the location of the water valves in the city. "This will keep us from digging all around trying to fix leaks," said Clark.

Council approved a $150 purchase for a set of pipe cutters and threaders for use in repairing city water pipes.

Dr. W. D. Walker, city councilman, asked council to fill in a hole at the Post Office parking lot. He reported that the concrete of the parking lot was not put flush against the street asphalt, and is causing the asphalt to break.

Mayor H. F. Miller reported that County Judge C. L. Chance complimented Florence on the way Florence is running the ambulance system.

In other business, Council approved $150 to buy two city police uniforms and one coat.

Clarkson nominated for drama scholarship

Glen Clarkson, Georgetown sophomore at SWTJC, was nominated for an Irene Ryan Scholarship, last week at the American College Theatre Festival — regional contest in San Marcos. Glen, who portrayed the villainous "Dickon" in the SWTJC production of "The Scarecrow," was one of two students nominated for the award, out of the 127 who competed.

The Iren Ryan Scholarship at the regional level amounts to a $750 scholarship, given to drama participants, toward studies in any field at the college or university of the winner's choice.

Should he win, Glen would then advance to the Theatre Festival "area" competition in Fort Worth this spring. Winning there would make him eligible to compete for a slot at the national festival in Washington D. C. He will be informed of the judges' decision December 7.

The other nominee was Mary E. A. Hodges at San Antonio College, who portrayed Mrs. Lincoln in "The Last of Mrs. Lincoln."

SWTJC's entry in the festival, under the direction of Drama Instructor Joan Johnston, was commended for the "special effects" exhibited in the production.

Glen is the son of Mrs. Bertha Williams of Georgetown.

Southwestern slates Christmas programs

Scheduled for early December are several programs ushering in the Christmas season at Southwestern University. The public is invited to attend the various events.

Sunday, December 7, at 4 p.m. in the Alma Thomas Theatre the "Messiah" (Christmas portion) will be given by the Southwestern University Chorale, Southwestern Singers and Sinfonietta. Directing the performance featuring 81 vocalists and 25 instrumentalists will be Kenny Sheppard of the music faculty in the School of Fine Arts. Others include Dr. Ellsworth Peterson, organist, and Professor R. Cochrane Penick, harpsichordist, both of the music faculty, with violinist Tom Douglass as concertmaster of the Sinfonietta.

The traditional tree-trimming is slated for 7 p.m. Sunday, December 7, in the Bishops Union Building featuring the Southwestern University Band of 50 musicians conducted by Dr. George Nelson of the music faculty in the School of Fine Arts and the Southwestern Extraordinaires, a "popsinging" group of 20 vocalists directed by Barbara Thomas, also of the music faculty.

The annual candlelight service will be held in Lois Perkins Chapel at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, December 9, with the Southwestern Singers directed by Kenny Sheppard and the Chapel Choir conducted by Dean Nelson F. Adams of the School of Fine Arts combining talents for an evening of music and worship.

No more seats are available for Monday night's performance by the Junior and Senior High School Choir Christmas presentation. Therefore, a second concert will be performed at 8 p.m. Thursday, December 18, in the Little Theater at the high school. Admission will be by ticket only and reservations may be made by phoning the high school at 863-6595 or 863-6593.

I was very glad to receive a letter several days ago from a former resident and a longtime friend, Mrs. D. W. White, who now lives in Austin. Mrs. White sent me the copy of The Sun's article for which I am so deeply grateful to Wesley Yawn and the Sun. It's things like this that really make it all worthwhile!

I was very pleased to hear a few days ago from my very best friend, a great guy, Bobby Williams, a Sun reader in Austin.

I had a very pleasant visit recently from Katy (Taylor) Salyer, a former resident of Liberty Hill, who now lives here in Georgetown; I also was pleased to see Melissa Ann (Missy) Kingery and Shirley Sneed who came by for a brief visit a few days ago.

Cindy Martinez, another delightful young friend from Leander, came by last Tuesday evening visiting me and other friends in Georgetown.

Each time I hear some more of the alarming facts concerning the danger of smoking I again ask myself, "Why do they do it?" Anyone who cares for those he knows who are engaging in this deadly practice of smoking cannot help but be concerned — we want to join the many others in saying, "If you smoke, quit; if you don't smoke, don't start!"

Medicare hospital deductible increases

Beginning January 1, 1976, Medicare's hospital deductible will be increased to $104. The present deductible of $92 will remain in effect for Medicare hospital admissions during the rest of this year.

In announcing the $104 deductible, James B. Cardwell, Commissioner of Social Security, said this amount is equivalent to the average cost of one day of hospital care. At the present time the average hospital stay under Medicare is about 13½ days, at a cost of $1,400.

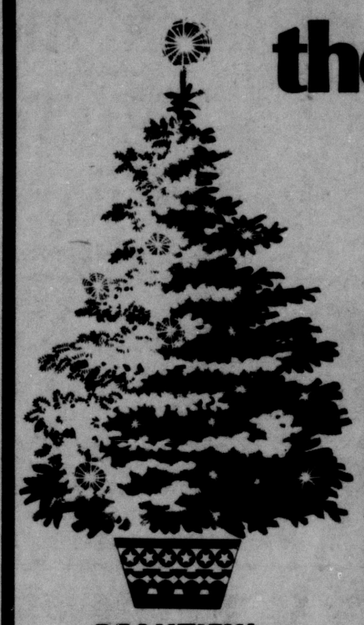

Commissioner Cardwell said the increase in the deductible results from continuing increases in hospital costs, which have been increasing at rates 50% faster than the overall cost-of-living. These inflationary increases in health care costs are largely responsible for the present $12 increase in the inpatient hospital deductible.

The law requires an annual review of hospital costs under Medicare and an ajustment of the portion of the bill for which a Medicare beneficiary is responsible, if these costs have risen substantially. The law provides a formula for determining the amount of any adjustment in the deductible amount.

When a Medicare beneficiary has a hospital stay of more than 60 days, he will pay $26 a day for the 61st through the 90th day. If he has a posthospital stay of over 20 days in a skilled nursing facility, he will pay $13 per day toward the cost of the 21st through the 100th day.

SCRAMBLED EGGS — Paul Bohanan (left) and helper Allen Bunch prepare to haul a devastated egg truck out of the ditch along the south shoulder of SH29 Thursday. According to Bohanan, witnesses said the truck ran off the road about noon Thursday and flipped one and a half times before coming to rest. The driver of the vehicle suffered only minor injury, but Bohanan said "There were quite a few eggs in the grass and around the area."

Fire Dept. issues holiday safety tips

The holiday season is on the way, bringing with it a multitude of traditions and some potential fire hazards as well, says Georgetown Fire Chief Curtis Anderson.

Noting especially the dangers of Christmas decorating, Anderson issued the following safety reminders from the Georgetown Fire Department, the non-profit Underwriters Laboratory (UIL), and the Texas Department of Health Resources:

• WHEN PURCHASING your Christmas tree this year, buy one with a good green color. Needles of a fresh tree should be hard to pull from branches, and needles won't break when bent. Bounce the tree hard against the ground and you won't get a shower of needles if the tree is fresh.

• Trees should be placed in a base which holds water, and this water should be checked regularly while the tree is up. Before mounting the tree, cut about two inches off the trunk to allow it to better absorb the water.

• Placement of trees also is important. Keep them away from stoves, fireplaces and radiators which could cause a tree to dry out quickly and perhaps catch fire.

• If you are buying an artificial tree — be sure to look for the UL label which tells you it is classified as flame resistant.

• WHEN INSTALLING their trees, many people burn the trimmings from branches in their fireplaces. If burned a piece at a time, this shouldn't cause any problem. But piling up a big mound of evergreens could cause popping and crackling and a large number of sparks. So be careful. And always use a screen before the fireplace.

Also, in selecting lights, check for the Underwriters' Laboratories label. On all strings of lights, make certain that all connections are tight and that there are no frayed or bare wires. These could cause short circuits and perhaps a fire— or a shock to the person installing them.

• Outdoor lights should be waterproof. They are especially made for the outdoors.

• When away from home, or when you go to bed, turn off all lights.

• And never use electric lights on metallic trees.

• Trimmings for trees and elsewhere in the home should be of flame-retardant material, something that won't flare up if accidentally ignited.

NEVER USE lighted candles on a tree or near other evergreens, decorations or wrapping paper. Candles should be in non-flammable holders and in locations where they cannot be knocked down or blown over.

• Be sure not to overload the electrical circuits in your home. The wires that carry more current than they can handle may overheat and cause a fire. Read manufacturer's instructions on lighting strings carefully and do not use more than the recommended number of lights in one circuit.

• WHEN PURCHASING GIFTS for the people you care about take time out to check for the UL Label. Gifts of electric food blenders, hair dryers, hot combs, and the like, are tested for safety by Underwriters Laboratories.

Matches, lighters and candles should be kept out of the reach of children. Children and adults should avoid the wearing of loose, flowing clothes — especially long, open sleeves — near the open flames of a fireplace, stove or candle-lit table.

And, once those presents under the tree have been opened, gather up all those wrappings from the tree and fireplace area and remove them from the home.

Fireman Kenneth R. Salyer also noted that fireworks have presented the department a Christmastime hazard in the past.

BILLY RICHARD TANKSLEY of 402 W. Second St., charged with attempted murder in connection with a Thanksgiving Day shooting, was released from the county jail last week on $5250 bond.

Tanksley is charged with reckless conduct and with the attempted murder of Charlotte Hardie Currier, 16, of 909 Elm St.

WILLIAMSON COUNTY'S AGRICULTURE SECTOR was thinking about rain the past week.

For ranchers, rain is critical, John Wakefield told the SUN.

The long spell of dry weather hasn't hurt farmers that much — yet — but could get serious if it continues much longer.

CONSTRUCTION WILL BEGIN early in 1976 on streets and water lines for a new residential subdivision in Liberty Hill.

The 44 new single family residences and 24 apartment units planned will help alleviate what has become a shortage in moderately priced housing in the area.

TAKE EARLY ADVANTAGE of the Georgetown Post Office's program to handle rush mail, says Postmaster Bill Williams.

Extra trips to Austin will be made weekdays at 2 p. m. starting no later than December 15. All items mailed before noon in either the Post Office or the postal boxes just outside will arrive in Austin around 3 p. m., and will be flown or trucked out the same day.

MID-STATE TELEPHONE CO. will raise its rates by approximately 10%, following a three to one vote by members of the Hutto City Council Monday night.

The action passed on first reading.

"WE HAVE A LOT OF DEER CASES," says precinct one Justice of the Peace Bill Hill.

His office has taken in $2442 in fines for hunting violations during November alone.

During the same month last year, only $487.75 in fines was sent to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept.

Almanac updated

The American Revolution of 1776 set in motion events that led to the colonization of Texas and eventually to its own struggle for self government, notes the new 1976-'77 edition of the Texas Almanac, published by A. H. Belo Corporation, publishers of The Dallas Morning News.

Those historic events affecting Texas have been traced in an article written especially for the Texas Almanac by the late R. Henderson Shuffler, editor, historian and, at the time of his death in the summer of 1975, executive director of the Institute of Texan Cultures at San Antonio.

"What we call the American Revolution was simply the first stage of the revolution of the Americas," Shuffler wrote. "Texas was affected directly by the American Revolution and the course of its history for centuries to come was shaped by the outcome."

Also in the Almanac's Bicentennial section, Sam Kinch Sr., chairman of American Revolution Bicentennial Commission of Texas, tells of the American Bicentennial in Texas. A commission listing of Texas events during the bicentennial year is included.

The new edition also contains a special section on "Gardening in Texas" prepared by specialists of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. It is a guide for planting vegetables, fruit and nut trees and ornamentals in all sections of the state.

"The LBJ Hill Country," written by Art and Elise Kowert, publishers of the Fredericksburg Standard, presents a description of the home of the late Lyndon B. Johnson, 36th President of the United States.

"Nowhere else in this land is there a place where, within a distance of a few miles, the story of an American President can be retraced through visiting the settlement of his grandparents, the birthplace, boyhood home, his 'White House' away from Washington, and his ranch where he lived in retirement and where he died and is buried," they wrote.

Other special features of the new Almanac include a history of the Texas Railroad Commission, the latest U. S. Census on manufacturing, wholesale and retail trade, the service industries and transportation in Texas, an account of the 10 Travel Trails of Texas, and a history of Texas A&M University observing its 100th anniversary in 1976.

Included also are data on election results, listings of county, municipal and state officials, appointive boards and commissions, officials of state and regional civic and trade organizations, and sections on agriculture, manufacturing, transportation and government.

Each Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area, the urban concentrations in which most Texans live, has an editorial page devoted to it.

A new Texas map in color, with major highways, supplements 254 county maps, updated from maps prepared by the Texas Highway Department. Tourism and recreation also are featured, with listings of state and national parks.

"This is the 48th edition of the Texas Almanac that has been published since 1857," said Joe M. Dealey, president of The Dallas Morning News. "We believe it continues the high standards that have made this publication the Encyclopedia of Texas."

Local merchants urged to attend credit seminar

Credit — if you offer it as part of a business operation, you need to be at Highland Mall in Austin from 8 a.m. to noon Wednesday, according to the Georgetown Retail Merchants Association.

That is when the Association and four other credit bureaus will sponsor the only seminar to be held in this area dealing with new federal regulations on credit.

INFORMATION DISTRIBUTED BY the Merchants Association and the Georgetown Chamber of Commerce says three new federal laws — the Equal Credit Opportunity Act, the Fair Credit Billing Act, and the 1974 amendments to the Truth-in-Lending Act — will soon require major changes in credit operations.

Wednesday's seminar will deal with specific new provisions of these acts, including:

Requirements for periodic statements.
Disclosure requirements.
Format for billing statement.
Credit application requirements.
Restrictions on credit criteria.
Strict penalties for noncompliance.
Required credit operating procedures.

CONDUCTING THE SEMINAR will be Hugh McAfee of Sears' Governmental Relations Staff in Dallas and formerly Sears' Regional Credit Manager in Houston; and Mickey Moore of the Texas Retail Federation in Austin.

According to the Merchants Association, the seminar should be attended by representatives from every retail outlet which grants credit, every bank which makes loans, any business or professional firm offering consumer credit, and every bureau offering credit information.

Cost for the seminar, to be held in the Community Hall at Highland Mall, will be $15.00 per person and will cover handout materials.

Space is expected to be limited.

TO REGISTER, contact the Merchants and Professional Credit Bureau, P. O. Box 1623, Austin 78767. The Georgetown Chamber of Commerce will also have information on the seminar.

Sponsors include the Georgetown Retail Merchants Association; Texas Retail Federation; Consumer Credit Asociation of Austin; Credit Women International; and the Merchants and Professional Credit Bureau.

★Council to consider

also wants more money, and the Council is expected to grant it.

LCRA OFFICIALS notified the city two weeks ago that they needed approximately $40,000 immediately to cover a shortfall in utility revenues.

The Authority offered a six percent discount from that amount for immediate payment, and Mayor Joe Crawford said $38,728 would be paid LCRA from an emergency account.

If the Council approves, approximately $2.00 would be added to the average residential consumer's electricity bill each month until at least April in order to cover the payment.

IN OTHER ACTION, the Council will open and scrutinize bids to construct the raw water intake structure, the first step in a plan to make North Fork Lake the city's future source of water.

The Council has $228,000 in Community Development Funds from the federal government with which to finance the construction.

A report of the 1974-75 audit will be made, and the Council will pass on a resolution to match a grant from the Criminal Justice Council of the Governor's Office. That grant would fund a purchase of radio equipment for the Georgetown Police Department.

THE COUNCIL will also deal with four items sent to it by the Planning and Zoning Commission, including:

Second reading of an ordinance to annex property between the San Gabriel River and the MKT Railroad tracks.

Abandonment of a ten-foot utility easement between 413 and 417 Oak Crest Lane.

Approval of a recommendation to limit speed along an area of College Street to be included in annexation.

Rezoning of two lots off U.S. 81 for commercial purposes.

Vaccination day set for G'town pets

It's vaccination time for all your pets.

The City of Georgetown is sponsoring a rabies clinic for pets, giving pet owners a chance to vaccinate their animals for rabies and to purchase 1976 dog tags.

The clinic is to be held from 8:30 - 1 p. m. December 13 at the Georgetown Fire Station.

Rabies vaccine injections will cost $3, up 50 cents from 1974 injections. Dog tags remain priced at $1.

By city law, all pets within city limits must be vaccinated and tagged.

Council to consider rate hike requests

Georgetown City Councilmen are expected to pass one utility increase and will hear a request for another when they meet Monday at 7 p. m. in the Council Room at City Hall.

The Council is also scheduled to examine the results of the 1974-75 audit of city books, open bids for construction of a raw water intake structure at North Fork Lake, and consider allocating $1735.25 to match a state law enforcement grant.

CARL KINSLOW, Customer Services Manager of the General Telephone Company's La Grange office, will appear before the council to explain why his company wants a 2.72% hike in its net income from the Georgetown-Jarrell exchange.

Kinslow submitted a 16-page document to the Council October 29 detailing the request, which would involve generation of $106,392 additional gross income from the exchange each month.

According to Kinslow, GenTel simply is not realizing a fair return on its investment in this area.

GENTEL'S PROPOSAL would raise telephone rates in Georgetown and Jarrell as follows:

BUSINESS TELEPHONE RATES —

- One-party business lines would rise from $14.00 to $20.50 per month.
- Two-party, from $11.60 to $18.50.
- Key lines, from $14.00 to $27.50.
- PBX lines, from $24.50 to $41.05.
- Rural four-party business lines, from $15.45 to $20.50.

RESIDENTIAL RATES —

- One-party residential, from $6.55 to $7.90 per month.
- Two-party, from $5.50 to $7.10 per month.
- Four-party, from $4.20 to $6.70 per month.
- Rural four party, from $7.25 to $7.90 per month.

Costs for unlisted numbers, pay telephones, and miscellaneous expensed would remain stable.

Sample copy edition of Thursday's SUN

The Thursday issue of the Williamson County Sun will be a "sample copy" edition, widely circulated in West Williamson County.

A special Christmas subscription offer will be made by the SUN in this issue and area merchants can take advantage of the extra circulation to tell the public about their Christmas values.

the passing glance

By Don Scarbrough

I hope we can get several qualified people to run for Wes Johnson's vacated chair on the County Commissioner's Court. At one time the people selected their commissioners simply to keep the county roads in good repair, but that concept is long gone.

THE COMMISSIONERS, collectively and individually, must deal with complicated problems — lots of them — that involve hundreds of thousands of dollars and the quality of life of all the county's inhabitants. It is essential that we have the best men possible for these jobs of leadership.

Our county budget long ago hit the million dollar mark. My idea of electing a commissioner would be to consider his qualifications the same as I would if I had a million dollar business and was looking for a man to run it.

The Pirates finally managed to jump on somebody their own size and emerged the winner, downing Sam Houston State 67-63. And, while this was going on, the Eagles nipped Texas School for the Deaf in an Austin tournament 70 to 67.

WHAT THIS MEANS, of course, is that football season for the amateurs is heaving its last breath, or just about, and basketball season is in full bloom. So, take advantage of the opportunity to see some excellent, exciting round-ball and support your home town program.

Of course, we still have a lot of football on the tube, with the collegiates moving into the bowls and the pros headed for the great showdown.

President Ford has departed China, leaving all us a mite better informed on that vast nation and its aging leaders. Up to now we have known virtually nothing, now we know a little. Our correspondents have seen what their hosts wanted them to see, little more. What we have seen on the tube is fascinating but I question that it is very illuminating. It would be interesting indeed to be able to actually travel across that enourmous country and see what an age of communism has done for or to its citizenry.

At County Commissioners meeting

Monday public hearing to approve raises

Increases in salaries for county employees will be discussed during a public hearing at the Commissioners' Court Monday at 10 a.m.

While almost all salaries will be upped by $40 per month, provisions have been made for some employees to receive a special salary adjustment not to exceed $140 monthly. This special adjustment will apply to some area justices of the peace, including Taylor Justice J. K. Harkins. Harkins had previously announced he would resign unless his pay is increased.

WILLIAMSON COUNTY AMBULANCE Service salaries and work schedules will be discussed during the meeting. Pay scales for attendants in the county service now range from $565 to $650 monthly.

Ambulance crews work 48 consecutive hours, followed by 48 hours off.

Emergency Care Attendants receive 32 hours training from Emergency Medical Attendants (EMT's). Medical doctors specializing in various fields train the EMT's for 80 classroom hours and 40 hours in a hospital and on the field.

THE COMMISSIONERS will consider opening bids at 10 a.m. Thursday for heating and air conditioning systems for the old Farmers' State Bank building, west of the square on Austin Avenue. Advertising for bids for repairs on the building will be considered during the regular meeting. The bank building is being remodeled to house offices for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Considerations to advertise for bids for a gravel trailer for Precinct Three, Granger, and one truck and one pickup for Precinct One, Georgetown, will also be made Monday.

Sheriff Bosshard will appear before the Commissioners to submit specifications on two new cars for his department, a preparatory step in drawing up bids to advertise for the vehicles if the Commissioners approve the proposals.

Local lawyer Joe McMaster is also scheduled to appear before the Court to request abandonment of utility easements between two lots in Oak Crest Subdivision.

REPRESENTATIVES FROM the Southwest Milam Water Supply Corporation, present during the November 24 court, will present a request to cross several eastern Williamson County roads to lay water lines.

Commissioners will also consider accepting improvements made on road No. 401 in Precinct Four, Taylor. Increasing mileage resulting in added travel expenses for the County Trapper, who traps dangerous and nuisance animals such as wolves and coyotes in Williamson County, will be discussed.

Increasing the "change fund" for county offices, used to make change for persons paying cash fines, and use of a copying machine by the County Historical Committee are two additional items on the Monday agenda.

Santa is coming

The refrain of that favorite old song, "Santa Claus is coming to town," will take on special meaning again Thursday afternoon when that very thing takes place in Georgetown.

Santa will arrive high atop a fire truck from which he will distribute candy to Georgetown area youngsters of all ages.

The jolly old elf in the bright red suit will greet children on the Courthouse Square at 4 p. m. Thursday, December 11.

So, as the song goes, "You better watch out, you better not cry, you better not pout, I'm telling you why, Santa Claus is coming to town."

Local home building pace speeded up

The pace of home building in Georgetown during 1975 far exceeds that of 1974 or 1973, according to city Building Inspection reports compiled monthly by Gloria Duffy.

Reports show inspectors Tom Sams and Frank Wininger have issued permits for construction of 117 new homes as of December 1, compared to year-end totals of 66 new dwellings last year and 73 two years ago.

TOTAL VALUE OF NEW CONSTRUCTION within the city limits is also at its highest mark in three years at 5,230,958.

That's more than twice the $2,433,130 figure recorded by the city as of December 1, 1974 and represents Georgetown's best construction year, dollar-wise, since projects worth $4.655 million were okayed in 1972.

LAST MONTH the Building Inspection Department gave the go-ahead to $137,787 worth of new construction, including three new single-family homes valued at $71,400.

The Novernber figure represents a substantial drop from construction value in October ($170,460) and from the total during November of last year ($146,100). But it adds to the assurance of a record-breaking building year.

OTHER TYPES OF NEW CONSTRUCTION approved in November included two commercial starts valued at $54,300, a $7487 sign, and home alterations and additions worth $4600.

May and July have been the best single construction months of 1975 to date.

A new $2 million athletic facility at Southwestern University was approved in May, pushing total construction value that month to $2,377,300.

In July the Gibson discount chain obtained permission to build a $300,000 store, making the total for that month $624,700.

The best quarterly marks were set from April-June ($2,630,450) and July-September ($1,211,675).

Average monthly construction value during 1975 is $475,541.63.

Oman, Woytek to announce for Commissioner's race

David Oman of Hutto and R. J. Woytek of Round Rock have both publically stated their intentions of running for the office of county commissioner — for precinct one, since the news broke that Wesley Johnson does not intend to seek re-election as Commissioner.

David (Red) Oman of Hutto has paid his filing fee and is announcing his bid for the office.

Oman is the 34-year-old manager of the Greenline Chemical Company.

R. J. "Ray" Woytek, a 19-year resident of Williamson County, has not yet officially filed for the Commissioners race.

"PEOPLE HAVE BEEN calling me to know definitely if I was running or not and I told them yes, I was, very definitely," Woytek said, adding that he plans to announce at a later date.

Both men ran against Johnson in the 1972 primary.

Georgetown lawyers Bill Lott and Tim Maresh announced their plans to run for district judge last week. Incumbent Judge Kirby Vance plans to retire when his term expires at the end of next December.

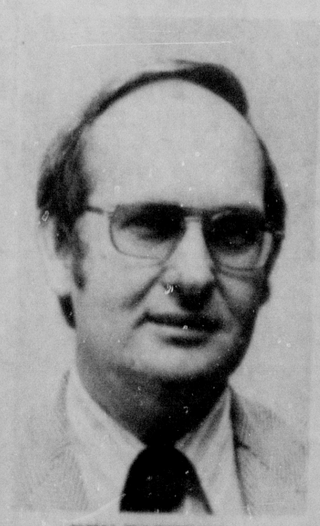

Incumbent tax assessor-collector William P. Buck is making plans to run for re-election during the May 1 primaries, as is the current sheriff, August Bosshard.

Other county elections slated for May include those for county commissioner of precinct three, district attorney and all constables.

GEORGETOWN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OFFICERS were elected Tuesday night for 1976. Bill Williams, Georgetown postmaster, was elected president. Ken Poteete, administrator of the Georgetown Medical and Surgical Hospital, was elected vice-president and Mrs. Milton Cockrum, owner of Cockrum's Gift Shop, was elected secretary-treasurer. They will be installed at the Chamber of Commerce Banquet in January.

Local merchants plan late hours

Do you work hours that leave little time for Christmas buying?

Is that "Christmas feeling" just impossible to get until only a few days remain before the big day?

IF YOU NEED extra time to shop for Christmas gifts evenings before Christmas, whatever your reason, Georgetown stores are working to be sure you get even those last-minute presents in time for your holiday gifting.

Many area stores are regularly open until 8 or 9 p. m., or will be doing so on special days in December.

A NUMBER OF STORES on or around the square will be staying open till 8 p. m. beginning next Thursday. Late hours will be scheduled for December 11, 18, 22 and 23.

Most stores in area shopping centers will be keeping regular hours, often 9 a. m. till 9 p. m., throughout the holiday season.

Many stores in the Hospital Shopping Center will be open during regular hours throughout the holiday, as will most of those at the Lakeaire Center.

MANY STORES IN SOUTHWESTERN PLAZA will be keeping their 9 p. m. closing hours while others will extend their hours to about 8:30 p. m. during the days shortly before Christmas.

Week's news in a nutshell!

THE WILLIAMSON COUNTY LIVESTOCK ASSOCIATION'S 29th annual Show and Sale opened Thursday in San Gabriel Park as young agriculturists from across the county herded their animals into the showbarns.

County Extension Agent John Wakefield said more than 250 F.F.A. and 4-H members registered 342 animals for the event.

THE CAMPAIGN FOR A NEW GEORGETOWN AREA HOSPITAL officially pulled away from the starting line Tuesday as Mearl V. Leffler contributed $1000 to the effort.

J. H. Compton, General Chairman of the Hospital Development Fund Drive, announced that Leffler's donation was soon followed by pledges totaling $55,000.

WESLEY T. JOHNSON will end 16 years work as commissioner for Williamson County precinct one in December of 1976.

"I have given this much consideration, and this will be my last term," declared Johnson, who has held the job since 1960.

Purpose is to control the potency

U.S. money grows a marijuana patch—for tests

By the Associated Press

Oxford, Mississippi

For more than 100 marijuana research programs across the nation and overseas, their grass supply is not from the neighborhood "dealer." Instead, it's grown with federal money on a heavily guarded plantation just outside this university town.

This pampered, pedigree marijuana is from the University of Mississippi's five-acre farm, the country's only legal marijuana fields. The crop has been going to researchers at other universities including Columbia, Tulane, Stanford, and Berkeley because scientists desire a standard variety of marijuana that allows experiments at different locations to be compared.

Dr. Carlton Turner, director of the project, said the program also provides marijuana of precisely calibrated strength to aid experiments in countries ranging from Brazil to Great Britain, Norway, and Greece.

Another Ole Miss scientist, Dr. Coy W. Waller, said the Mississippi marijuana project has sought to maintain a "very low profile" since its inception in 1968, partly because of security problems.

Protection around the marijuana plantation and a storage warehouse includes high fences, guards, television monitors and other measures — accounting for some $40,000 of the project's $150,000 budget.

However, Dr. Waller indicated that the calm campus spirit here has helped the project's security.

"This is one of the few campuses where we could get away with our program" without such trouble, the researcher said.

He added: "People in Mississippi have always respected authority. We still have our students saying: 'Yes, sir.' "

The project at Ole Miss also is launching a new effort to monitor the potency of marijuana seized by law-enforcement officers throughout the United States.

Dr. Turner said in an interview at the university's School of Pharmacy that under a grant from the National Institute on Drug Abuse, the program was starting to analyze samples sent to Oxford by the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration from major seizures of marijuana, hashish, and hashish oil.

Dr. Waller, told a Senate panel earlier this year that there was evidence of a continuing increase in the strength of marijuana being used in this country.

Dr. Waller, head of the school's Research Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences, noted recent growth in smuggling of marijuana from Colombia and Jamaica, competing with lesser-strength Mexican cannabis.

He said the concentration of Delta 9-tetrahydrocannabinol (THC) — the prime drug in marijuana — could range up to six percent from some varieties from Brazil, compared with about 1.5 to 2 percent for Mexican marijuana.

The Senate internal security subcommittee plans to hold further hearings in January to examine the marijuana situation. The subcommittee is chaired by Sen. James O. Eastland (D) of Mississippi.

Up thar in Washington

You never know until the details are all worked out, but Treasury Secretary William E. Simon's proposed tax reform program seems to make sense out of today's complicated and unfair scheme.

SIMON WANTS TO ELIMINATE all so-called loopholes and have the U. S. collect an extra $50 billion dollars annually, at the same time lower personal income taxes by about 30 per cent, especially for the people earning less than $50,000 a year!

Wealthy people would pay 35 per cent on all earnings above $50,000. Period. No exemptions. No loopholes. Middle-income families would pay about 10 to 12 per cent and low income families would pay no income taxes.

At the same time, Simon wants to end double-taxation on corporations — once before dividends are sent to stockholders, again on the recipients of those dividends. He says the current tax system "is discouraging savings and investment," and believes his idea would work in the other direction.

Sounds good until you consider that some of those "loopholes" support our churches, our privately endowed colleges and universities, and indeed, do provide capital and incentive for investments and expansion.

BUT IT SURE DOES SEEM that our tax system needs to be simplified so that even newspaper editors can understand it.

There is quite a struggle underway on whether to end the one year federal tax cuts that helped a lot of people weather the economic storm last year, at the same time greatly refueled the economy with a surprising lack of additional inflation.

THE ADMINISTRATION wants to see the tax cuts extended, along with a ceiling on federal spending. The Democrats want to plunge on upward with federal spending. In fact, the Demos won't even let the Republicans offer Ford's idea of a $395 billion ceiling as a part of the measure.

If the tax cuts are not extended the family earning $15,000 a year will pay about $5.00 per week in additional federal taxes, and so on.

Mayors of big American cities met in Miami last week and, among other things, charged that the Nixon and Ford administrations had been and were waging war on the cities!

IT WAS NONE OTHER than Richard Nixon who about four years ago inaugurated the program on Federal Revenue Sharing with cities and counties, a costly scheme that undoubtedly bailed out hundreds from great fiscal difficulties. It's a multibillion dollar adventure and the Miami dolphins' price just now little this kind of largess is appreciated.

Wet streets Thursday morn

The gentle rain peppering down on the wet street between the SUN and the courthouse Thursday morning sure looked good!

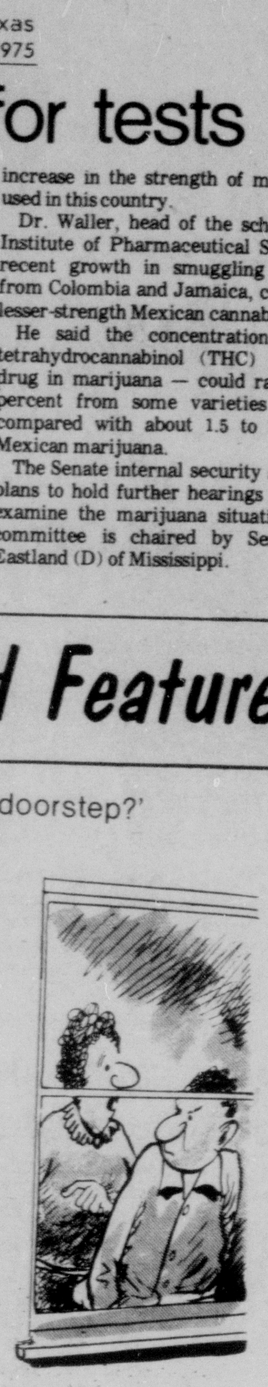

WE HOPE IT CONTINUES until the ranges are green and the farmers are ready for it to stop. There is one thing we gotta have in Williamson County — and that's rain. It makes the mare go.

Nixon Helped Iran Against Iraq

WASHINGTON — The astonishing story is beginning to leak out of how the United States sacrificed thousands of lives to help the Shah of Iran negotiate a favorable deal with neighboring Iraq.

The Shah was involved in border and navigation disputes with Iraq. He wanted to bring pressure upon the Iraqis by stirring up trouble inside their country.

So the Shah urged the CIA to arm the fierce Kurdish tribes and encourage them to harass the Iraqi army. On four occasions, the CIA rejected the proposal. Three times, the State Department also advised against it.

But in May, 1972, then-President Richard Nixon and his foreign policy advisor, Henry Kissinger, visited Iran. They held a secret meeting with the Shah — just the three of them — alone, behind closed doors.

They struck a deal to support a Kurdish revolt in Iraq. Nixon ignored the objections of the CIA and State Department. At one point, former Treasury Secretary John Connally was dispatched to Iran to tell the Shah personally that the arrangements were ready.

Millions of dollars worth of untraceable Chinese and Soviet arms were shipped through Iran to the Kurds. Suddenly, the fierce tribesmen swarmed out of their mountain hideouts and attacked Iraqi outposts. There were heavy casualties on both sides as the revolt continued.

The Shah, meanwhile, reopened his negotiations with the Iraqis. He offered to end his support of the Kurds if the Iraqis would sign a favorable border settlement. On March 6, 1975, the Shah announced a formal agreement with Iraq.

Immediately, the Shah cut off his support of the Kurdish revolt. The CIA, with Kissinger's blessing, also abandoned the Kurds.

Within a few days, the Kurds were overwhelmed by Iraqi troops. Thousands were slaughtered. An estimated 80,000 Kurdish refugees fled for their lives.

The Kurd's 72-year-old leader, Mustafa Barzani, visited the United States to find out why his people had been abandoned. He was secreted away in a CIA "safe house" [illegible] and kept totally isolated.

He begged to see Henry Kissinger, but was refused. To top it off, say our sources, Barzani was given a medical checkup while he was in the U.S. and learned that he is afflicted with cancer.

Throughout all their scheming and plotting with the Shah, the Kurds were wary of a doublecross. But United States participation in the affair, they thought, offered them a guarantee.

They were mistaken, it turns out. The Shah got his deal. Kissinger is still pampering the Shah. And the Kurdish people paid with their blood.

Footnote: Henry Kissinger's betrayal of the Kurds, say our sources, was related directly to his Middle East diplomacy. He felt the Iraqis should be freed of their Kurdish problems so they could resume a simmering battle with Syria. This, he felt, would draw Syrian attention away from the pact he was trying to negotiate between the Egyptians and the Israelis.

Battle of the Brass: The various military services have been fighting among each other since the days of the First Continental Army. The Navy is always afraid the Marines are stealing their job; the Air Force doesn't want the Army flying anything but helicopters.

Now there's a new inter-service brouhaha shaping up at the Pentagon. The Navy desperately wants to begin building a fleet of "supercarriers" which will probably cost over a billion dollars apiece. The Admirals would like to get started on their supercarriers with next year's budget.

A number of well-placed Air Force generals, however, have begun talking publicly of their service's ability to take over many Navy missions. Their long-range planes and newly developed air-refueling capabilities, the generals have asserted, eliminate the need for a fleet of supercarriers.

Generally, Defense Department leaders have taken the Air Force view. Former Defense Secretary James Schlesinger, for example, believed the Navy should spend its money on small carriers and not the supercarriers. He directed the Navy brass to prepare a mammoth study on the controversy.

The Admirals, in short, will soon be scrambling for their stripes. The battle promises to be a real bruiser.

Necessary Precaution?: The Secret Service has quietly started running police checks and compiling data banks on volunteer workers for the current presidential candidates.

Campaign spokesmen for Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., and Rep. Mo Udall, D-Ariz., told us they considered the checks a necessary precaution.

Each volunteer is asked to fill out an information form which requests name, birthdate and Social Security number. It is noted on the form that the Social Security number is given optionally and at the request of the Secret Service.

However, the volunteers are not told how closely they will be checked. The files will be destroyed after the campaign.

Embarrassed Gunmen: During a recent routine check, Treasury agents discovered an unlicensed rifle at the headquarters of the National Rifle Association.

A spokesman for the Treasury said the infraction was a violation of the Federal Firearms Act. The rifle is currently being traced.

An embarrassed NRA spokesman told us the rifle was deactivated after the violation was discovered. He added that it had been removed from the display area.

Bourgeois Tastes: Russian diplomats in Washington apparently find it difficult to practice the communist life style they preach. Our survey of Soviet diplomatic cars reveals the Russians prefer the General Motors line, from Cadillacs to Vegas. Chrysler products are second most popular, and Ford vehicles rank third. A very few Soviet diplomats own small foreign cars, and as best we could determine, not a single one of them drives a Soviet-made automobile.

Board President J. R. Sybert agreed to check with Centex Butane Company about meeting the requirements.

Until all Americans are forced to surrender their guns, you can still shoot a robber inside your home.

Cynically it's been suggested that if you shoot him outside, you should drag him back inside before you telephone the police. Since British common law, the inside of your home is your own.

BUT WOULD YOU BELIEVE that there are members of Congress trying right now to pass a law for the protection of prowlers!

Watch the back door.

Not all of the laws shackling cops and encouraging criminals can be blamed on the old Earl Warren Supreme Court.

There is an effort right now in the U.S. Congress to revise the Federal Criminal Code.

A bunch of congressmen — who seem always to want less law enforcement—now want to make it a federal law that if you shoot a prowler in your home YOU go to jail.

As is, the law assumes that when somebody forcibly breaks into your home you can shoot him.

THESE CONGRESSMEN THINK you should run instead. And that if you do shoot the prowler you should be charged with murder.

Already a Senate subcommittee has endorsed this noxious notion. So Senate Bill No. 1 and House Bill No. 3907 — if they should become law — would supersede any state laws to the contrary.

If you confront the congressmen who are advocating this further surrender of YOUR rights in favor of the rights of wrongdoers, they'll profess concern that juveniles who intend "nothing more serious than vandalism" might be shot on the spot.

They say homeowners are likely to "overreact" to nighttime intruders.

Instead, the homeowner should retreat. Lock himself in his bedroom, crawl under the bed and wait while the cute kids slash the curtains, spray-paint the walls, steal what they want and set fire to what's left.

TO QUOTE DICKENS, "If the law supports that, the law is an ass and an idiot."

And so are the members of Congress who are supposed to be representing YOU and YOUR interests.

Yet when a Tampa Tribune editorial focused its readers' attention on this newest assault on your rights — the total reader response was two telephone calls and one letter.

I hope other readers mailed the editorial to their congressional representatives.

More in tune with the needs of the times is the effort in Colorado Springs to hold for adult punishment three kidnap-killers of a little girl — even though they are 17, 16 and 16.

J. EDGAR HOOVER SAID, "Anyone capable of committing an adult crime is capable of taking adult punishment."

Besides, what business is it of the federal government if individual states prefer to try toughness for a change?

Austin Notebook

AUSTIN — Gov. Dolph Briscoe is in a fuss with some of the State Capitol reporters who were unkind enough to check on and report on how many days he had been away from the Capitol.

Briscoe got support from the man in the street who wrote a letter to the editor saying, in the true spirit of the 1876 Constitution which Briscoe helped retain, that "we'd be a lot better off if the governor, the Legislature and all of the rest of the state officials would stay away from Austin."

Briscoe told the Texas Farm Bureau that he plans to spend even more time away from Austin in 1976, listening to the people of Texas.

But he did not revive the idea he announced a couple of years ago with much fanfare. That was to have a "traveling governor's office." It was to have been a camper of some sort. Members of the governor's staff would occupy it. In the course of a year, they would visit every courthouse square in Texas, to answer questions the people might have. The governor himself would occupy the "traveling office" from time to time, the announcement said.

After the announcement, some-one undoubtedly pointed out that with 254 counties and only 260 working days in a year, it would be hard to spend even a day at each of the courthouses, if you allow travel time between them.

At any rate, if the traveling office has ever traveled, it hasn't been heard of back in the brush here in Austin.

Briscoe contended that the news item about the many working days he spent away from Austin was exaggerated.

But there is hard evidence that he was absent not only from Austin, but also from Texas, for what the books appear to say either 27.3 or 27.69 days.

The constitution provides that when the governor is out of the state, the lieutenant governor is to collect pay at the same rate as the governor.

The governor's rate of pay during that year was $63,000, which would be $175 a day if you figure a 360-day year, or $172.60 if you figure a 365-day year.

The Legislature had provided $10,000 for paying the lieutenant governor and the senators who act as governor when both Briscoe and Lieut. Gov. Bill Hobby are out of the state.

During the year which ended Aug. 31, Comptroller Bob Bullock's as-yet unpublished figures indicate, $4,779 was paid out of that fund. That would be 27.69 days at $172.60 or 27.3 days at $175 a day.

But it's certain that the fellow was wrong when he said the state would be better off if Briscoe would stay away from Austin more — if he means staying away in England and places like that. Because he keeps getting the $175 or $172.60 whether he's in Texas or not. If he just stays away in Uvalde, Hobby gets nothing at all, and that is perhaps a saving.

Briscoe appears to contend that when he checks out of Austin Thursday afternoon or Friday with Uvalde as his destination, he may go by way of Dallas or Paducah to make a speech and hear what the people are saying. And when he comes back to Austin Monday he does so by way of El Paso or Texarkana, so he's on the job even though he may show in the flight logs of his state-owned airplane that he left Austin for Uvalde and then left Uvalde for Austin.

Time was when Gov. James V. Allred had a news conference every morning, except on the occasions when he was out of town.

Capitol newsmen aren't burning for a return to those "good old days", but they would settle for a chance to talk to the governor a little oftener than every 61 days.

Musical shows realities of Christian life

The young people of the First Baptist Church of Georgetown will present the Christian folk musical "Real" at the church tonight (Sunday) at 7 p. m.

About 30 young men and women have been practicing for several months on the musical. There have been tentative plans to present the program at other schools and churches in the area.

"Real" is the outgrowth of a church-group tour made by the youth of a San Antonio church. The setting for "Real" represents a practice session for a musical as the young people experience the highs and lows in their search for a Christian life.

The general public is invited to attend. Several other churches in Georgetown plan to bring their youth to the program tonight, according to the church's pastor, the Rev. Al Cummings.

Hutto school trustees discuss proposed classroom complex

Hutto trustees met Thursday night to discuss the sale of bonds and renovation and construction at the school.

The board discussed the present renovation of restrooms by Pokorny Construction Company of Taylor. It was decided that a new roof will have to be installed before work can be completed.

Plans for a classroom complex to be attached to the vocational building have been drawn up and the school board is waiting to hear from the architect. The complex will contain home economics classrooms plus several other classrooms separated by sliding doors, that can be enlarged into one large area, 30 feet by 60 feet. Restrooms, a cafetorium and library are also part of the complex.

Athletic dressing rooms are also in the planning stages.

The average daily attendance for the Hutto School District for the first quarter of the year was 257.536 students for the regular program. This is approximately 28 students higher than this time last year.

The board voted to take the money for the buses out of the transportation fund and place it in a savings account until the buses arrive in the spring. They also decided to place a sum from the general operating checking account in savings.

Named to the Textbook Committee for the 1975-76 school year at a special called meeting November 25 were Isham Coward, Kirby Priest, LaVona Wilkinson, Nadine Johnson, Grace Cole, Deanna Fate, Chester Hedrick, Ellen Morris, Cheryl Towns, Clifton Pepper and Karen Pekar.

Members present were Norman Fuessel, Frank Kruse, Gus Almquist, M. A. Barnes Jr., Edward Lantzsch and Larry Rydell. Also present were Isham Coward, superintendent, Patt Gantt and David Oman.

The trustees plan to meet with their architect at 7 p.m. Wednesday, December 10, if arrangements can be made.

JOE BUCHANAN topped Southwestern scorers here Thursday against Sam Houston with 15 points.

Pirates defeat Sam Houston

Southwestern University's Pirates took their first win of the season Thursday night here as they topped highly touted Sam Houston State University 67-63.

The Bucs overcame a nine-point halftime deficit by hitting on 14 points in the first five minutes of the second half to go into a 37-33 lead and win. Kenny Dennis led that charge with eight of the 14 points.

Joe Buchanan led Southwestern scorers with 15 points while Georgetown's Steve Doering, Michael Minks and Dennis each had ten. Also helping the Bucs with a balanced scoring attack were Jimmy Duffield and Dick Pool with eight points apiece and Hutto's Tommy Johnson with six.

Three Sam Houston players hit in the double figures with James Holcombe netting 18 points, Billy Froechtenicht 14, and Melvin Moore 13.

Southwestern flew to Kingsville Saturday for a game with the Texas A&I Javelinas, a team that defeated the Bucs here on November 25 by five points, 79-74.

This week the Pirates have two home games with Howard Payne here Thursday, December 11, and Southwest Texas State University here on Saturday, December 13. Home games begin at 7:30 p.m.

South Jonestown Church sponsors international supper

The W.M.U. of South Jonestown Baptist Church hosted a Missions supper Wednesday evening, November 26, in the church's fellowship hall. The menu for the evening consisted of International dishes.

After the meal, the group divided into different age levels for special prayer for foreign missions. This meeting marked the beginning of the Lottie Moon Christmas offering for foreign missions for this year.

Forty-one persons were present for the meal and prayer meetings.

On Sunday evening, November 30, seven Acteens of South Jonestown Baptist Church under the direction of Acteen Leader Pat Holden presented a choral drama interpreting the Week of Prayer, entitled "Redeemed — Rejoice — Proclaim!"

Darlene McNeill, W. M. U. Director, gave the scripture references.

The Georgetown Eagle Boosters will have their regular monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday, December 8, at the Georgetown High School to make plans for the annual football banquet.

Arrangements will be made for selling tickets for the football banquet as the plans are finalized. The banquet will be open to the public and more ticket information will be available later. Interested persons are invited to attend the meeting.

The Georgetown Eagle Boosters are sponsoring a concession stand at all home basketball games this season as a money-making project. Those interested in working in the concession stand or in contributing food to be sold, contact Mrs. Eric MacEwan at 863-5811.

What's Happening?

Members of Xi Mu Rho chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met December 2 in Stonehaven Community Center for a short business meeting to discuss social and service plans for December. Later they joined the Young Homemakers to view the presentation of Christmas ideas given by Suzanne Moore of Lone Star Gas Co. Following the program was a social hour with refreshments served by the Young Homemakers.

The Georgetown OptiMrs. Club held their annual dinner and auction recently at the San Gabriel Community Center. A turkey dinner was served to approximately 100 members and guests. The auctioneer, Harold Parker, kept the bidders active thus raising the funds needed for the clubs planned projects.

Funds are used to sponsor a girl to Girls State, send Girl Scouts to summer camp, and for Georgetown Little Theater, Stonehaven, Bicentennial Committee, Garden Club and other worthy projects.

John Doe ?

During the last war Kilroy was the name of the man who had been there. John Doe, the encyclopedia tells us, is the name used in legal documents to describe a person whose real name is unknown.

You do not know the name of this darling baby, and his name may be unknown to us, but in his eyes dwell love and trust. His eyes are like doe-eyes. Yet the male deer is a young buck, rather than a doe, and he is known for his swift running and his ability to jump to high places.

Our prayer for this young man is this:

May the Lord strengthen and stablish you. Then as Isaiah says in the 6th verse of the 33rd Chapter, wisdom and knowledge shall be the stability of thy times, and strength of salvation: the fear of the Lord is his treasure."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Florence trustees slate meeting

Another look at the progress of the Vocational Building faces the Florence School Board at their regular scheduled meeting Monday at 6:30 p. m.

The building, scheduled to be finished over a month ago, is nearing completion, said school superintendent Lee Roy Knauth. "All that's left to do is put up partitions in the restrooms," Knauth said.

—0—

THE BOARD WILL EXAMINE its policy concerning alcohol at school activities. The present policy only pertains to athletic functions, and, according to Knauth, "It will probably be expanded to include all school related activities, and traveling to and from those activities."

—0—

Knauth will ask the board to consider selling the old agriculture building along with excess vocational tools and equipment.

Board members plan to appoint a textbook committee to study and recommend new textbooks to the School Board.

—0—

IN HIS REPORT to the board, Knauth will present information on the number of transfer students to the school district and a report from the State Building Commission.

Mrs. Lansford selected for music committee

Mrs. Jane Lansford of the music faculty in the School of Fine Arts at Southwestern University has been selected to serve on the music committee of the Southwest Texas Conference of the United Methodist Church.

In addition to her teaching duties at Southwestern University, Mrs. Lansford, a gifted and skilled pianist and organist, is organist for the Memorial United Methodist Church in Austin. She is also director of the Preparatory Music Department in the School of Fine Arts at Southwestern University.

Mrs. Lansford serves frequently as adjudicator for contests and competition in the music field. Joining the music faculty at Southwestern University in 1971, Mrs. Lansford, assistant professor of piano, was formerly a member of the piano faculty at John Brown University in Arkansas and the University of Arkansas.

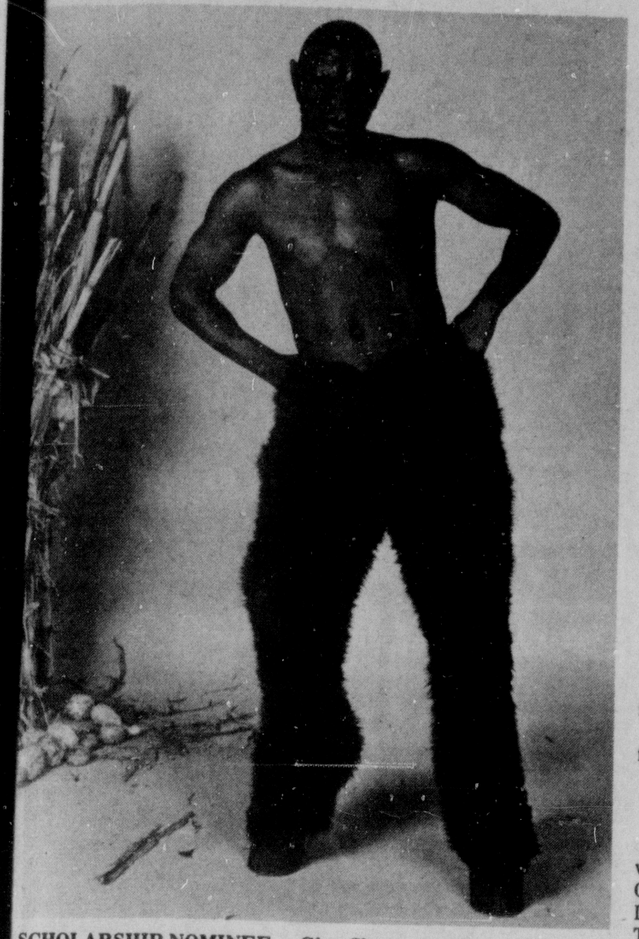

A recipient of a bachelor of fine arts degree (magna cum laude) from Southwestern University and a master of music degree with a concentration in piano from the University of Arkansas, Mrs. Lansford (the former Jane Nelms) has also studied at the American School, Fontainebleau, France.

SCHOLARSHIP NOMINEE — Glen Clarkson of Georgetown portrayed the villainous "Dickson" in the Southwest Texas Junior College production of "The Scarecrow." He was one of the two students nominated for an Irene Ryan Scholarship recently at the American College Theater Festival regional contest in San Marcos.

Georgetown hosts city managers workshop

Georgetown played host Wednesday to 14 Central Texas city officials gathered for a workshop on management training for small cities.

City Manager Leo Wood and Asst. City Manager W. L. Walden welcomed the guests to the San Gabriel Neighborhood Facility and represented Georgetown at the session. Mr. Wood is president of Region Seven of the Texas Municipal League (TML).

Sponsored by TML and two other city management organizations, the workshop dealt with various aspects of municipal affairs, training including:

— administrative law
— finance and fiscal relations
— personnel administration
— planning in the small city
— public works
— public safety: the police function
— public safety: the firefighting function
— parks and recreation
— public relations
— human services

Conducting the workshop were John Cutzinger, Training Coordinator for the City of Dallas, and Gary Watkins, a TML administrative assistant.

Cutzinger and Watkins used materials written for the International City Managers Association (ICMA) by city administrators, to demonstrate techniques of municipal management.

"The idea of the workshop," Cutzinger explained, "is to help city administrators conduct training in these areas for their own department heads.

"Frequently," he continued, "small cities just don't have the resources to send their officials to far-away training seminars every so often.

"Hopefully, this kind of in-house training conducted by the city manager and his department heads will get more people involved in the decision-making process.

"The program is designed to make department heads, such as your fire chief and police chief, more aware of what other departments are doing so they can coordinate their actions on given projects.

"It is also supposed to keep any one department from operating independently of all the others in the city," said Cutzinger.

The goal of the program, he said, "is to make the various city departments more a team, able to act together."

City Manager Leo Wood commented about the workshop, "We basically follow this program anyway and have for years.

"It's difficult to stay with the program as a whole, but the TML materials are helpful and I think Mr. Cutzinger and Mr. Watkins gave everybody some good ideas.

"It's a good training program, kind of a refresher," Wood added.

He said the program dealt mainly with tenchiques of city administration rather than with law.

Wednesday's workshop was one of nine held in Texas this year, sponsored by TML, the ICMA, and the Texas City Managers Association (TCMA).

Attending from elsewhere in Central Texas were:

George Ferrell, City Manager, Belton
Jack Tippet, City Manager, Burnet
Ray Bennet, City Manager, Lockhart
W. C. Keaghy, City Manager, Giddings
Bill Cox, City Manager, Bastrop
Cleve Ferguson, Director of Public Works, Mexia
W. L. Van De Weghe, Director of Planning, Mexia
Robert Butler, City Manager, Mexia
E. N. Delashmutt, Asst. City Manager, Mexia

CANCER ANSWER LINE

American Cancer Society
M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute

A fashion model asks: "Should all moles be removed? I have a 'beauty spot' near my mouth. It is kind of a trademark, but, I worry about cancer."

ANSWERline: Hang on to that trademark because all moles don't automatically have to be removed. However, you should be alert to any change in your mole's size or color. If you notice anything, check with your physician.

A teacher asks: "How can I get the facts about cancer in our particular state for a class project?"

ANSWERline: Your local American Cancer Society Unit has a booklet entitled "Cancer Facts & Figures" that will be quite a help. It is free of charge.

Florence City Council awaiting recommendation from Water Quality Board

In a report from Councilman David Merideth, Florence City Council learned Tuesday night that the Texas Water Quality Board is still considering Florence's request for aid with city sewers.

According to Merideth, the decision will not be made until after the first of the year. Florence is seeking a recommendation from the Board to help obtain $19,000 in federal monies from the Environmental Protection Agency.

City Manager Lum Clark has received information on the location of the water valves in the city. "This will keep us from digging all around trying to fix leaks," said Clark.

Council approved a $150 purchase for a set of pipe cutters and threaders for use in repairing city water pipes.

Dr. W. D. Walker, city councilman, asked council to fill in a hole at the Post Office parking lot. He reported that the concrete of the parking lot was not put flush against the street asphalt, and is causing the asphalt to break.

—0—

Mayor H. F. Miller reported that County Judge C. L. Chance complimented Florence on the way Florence is running the ambulance system.

In other business, Council approved $150 to buy two city police uniforms and one coat.

Clarkson nominated for drama scholarship

Glen Clarkson, Georgetown sophomore at SWTJC, was nominated for an Irene Ryan Scholarship, last week at the American College Theatre Festival — regional contest in San Marcos. Glen, who portrayed the villainous "Dickon" in the SWTJC production of "The Scarecrow," was one of two students nominated for the award, out of the 127 who competed.

The Iren Ryan Scholarship at the regional level amounts to a $750 scholarship, given to drama participants, toward studies in any field at the college or university of the winner's choice.

Should he win, Glen would then advance to the Theatre Festival "area" competition in Fort Worth this spring. Winning there would make him eligible to compete for a slot at the national festival in Washington D. C. He will be informed of the judges' decision December 7.

The other nominee was Mary E. A. Hodges at San Antonio College, who portrayed Mrs. Lincoln in "The Last of Mrs. Lincoln."

SWTJC's entry in the festival, under the direction of Drama Instructor Joan Johnston, was commended for the "special effects" exhibited in the production.

Glen is the son of Mrs. Bertha Williams of Georgetown.

Southwestern slates Christmas programs

Scheduled for early December are several programs ushering in the Christmas season at Southwestern University. The public is invited to attend the various events.

Sunday, December 7, at 4 p.m. in the Alma Thomas Theatre the "Messiah" (Christmas portion) will be given by the Southwestern University Chorale, Southwestern Singers and Sinfonietta. Directing the performance featuring 81 vocalists and 25 instrumentalists will be Kenny Sheppard of the music faculty in the School of Fine Arts. Others include Dr. Ellsworth Peterson, organist, and Professor R. Cochrane Penick, harpsichordist, both of the music faculty, with violinist Tom Douglass as concertmaster of the Sinfonietta.

The traditional tree-trimming is slated for 7 p.m. Sunday, December 7, in the Bishops Union Building featuring the Southwestern University Band of 50 musicians conducted by Dr. George Nelson of the music faculty in the School of Fine Arts and the Southwestern Extraordinaires, a "popsinging" group of 20 vocalists directed by Barbara Thomas, also of the music faculty.

The annual candlelight service will be held in Lois Perkins Chapel at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, December 9, with the Southwestern Singers directed by Kenny Sheppard and the Chapel Choir conducted by Dean Nelson F. Adams of the School of Fine Arts combining talents for an evening of music and worship.

No more seats are available for Monday night's performance by the Junior and Senior High School Choir Christmas presentation. Therefore, a second concert will be performed at 8 p.m. Thursday, December 18, in the Little Theater at the high school. Admission will be by ticket only and reservations may be made by phoning the high school at 863-6595 or 863-6593.

Liberty Hill NEWS

BY HOWARD N. WILSON

At least I wasn't the last to learn the big news about John Chesley's latest venture, his 40-acre residential and commercial sub-division that will be located just south of State Highway 29 and west of Ranch Road 1869. I learned about this project from the December 1 edition of The Libertarian, and I wasn't any less pleased to hear about it even though I was a bit late.

I am glad that the homes in this new project will be styled to blend in with the natural charm of our town, and I was particularly pleased to hear that the present home on the lot will be restored. I have many fond memories of experiences during my youth in and around this fine old home while Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Perry and Johnny were living there. I feel sure that this new development, like the others that have been promoted by Mr. Chesley, will be a credit to him and to our community. Liberty Hill is a great place in which to live, and it's getting better all the time!

I was very glad to receive a letter several days ago from a former resident and a longtime friend, Mrs. D. W. White, who now lives in Austin. Mrs. White sent me the copy of The Sun's article for which I am so deeply grateful to Wesley Yawn and the Sun. It's things like this that really make it all worthwhile!

I was very pleased to hear a few days ago from my very best friend, a great guy, Bobby Williams, a Sun reader in Austin.

I had a very pleasant visit recently from Katy (Taylor) Salyer, a former resident of Liberty Hill, who now lives here in Georgetown; I also was pleased to see Melissa Ann (Missy) Kingery and Shirley Sneed who came by for a brief visit a few days ago.

Cindy Martinez, another delightful young friend from Leander, came by last Tuesday evening visiting me and other friends in Georgetown.

Each time I hear some more of the alarming facts concerning the danger of smoking I again ask myself, "Why do they do it?" Anyone who cares for those he knows who are engaging in this deadly practice of smoking cannot help but be concerned — we want to join the many others in saying, "If you smoke, quit; if you don't smoke, don't start!"

County case load increased slightly during November

While 7 debt suits and 4 other new civil cases were added to the Williamson County Court docket in November, 3 other cases were dismissed. November totals therefore increased from 109 to 117 civil cases pending, according to the county's report to the Texas Civil Judicial Council (TCJC).

The civil docket now includes 22 auto damages/personal injury suits, 3 condemnation suits, 57 debt suits and 35 other civil cases.

Although the court disposed of 64 criminal cases during the month, 64 new cases were added, leaving unchanged the total of 211 criminal cases pending.

The criminal docket on November 1 included 78 cases of driving while intoxicated (DWI), 47 cases of swindling with a worthless check, 21 cases of possession of marijuana and 65 other criminal cases.

The report, prepared by court clerk Neal Boydston, states that 35 DWI cases, 3 worthless check cases, 7 marijuana cases and 14 other suspected offenses were added to the docket during November.

Five of the cases listed as "other criminal" offenses reached the county court docket by appeals from lower courts.

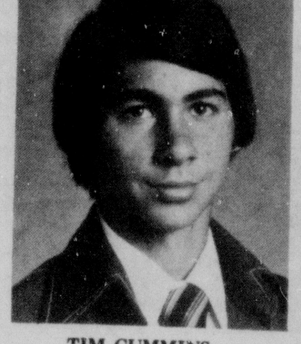

During the month, the court disposed of 31 DWI cases by pleas of guilty or nolo contendere.

Also disposed of by pleas of guilty or nolo contendere were 7 worthless check cases, 7 marijuana possession cases, and 9 other criminal cases. Three worthless check cases, 1 marijuana case and 5 other criminal cases were dismissed.

One other criminal charge was disposed of when the judge found the suspect not guilty.

Left on the criminal court docket at the end of November are 82 DWI cases, 40 worthless check cases, 20 marijuana possession cases and 69 other criminal cases.

The TCJC report also states that 1 juvenile case was filed. A finding of delinquency settled the case, leaving no others pending.

Medicare hospital deductible increases

Beginning January 1, 1976, Medicare's hospital deductible will be increased to $104. The present deductible of $92 will remain in effect for Medicare hospital admissions during the rest of this year.

In announcing the $104 deductible, James B. Cardwell, Commissioner of Social Security, said this amount is equivalent to the average cost of one day of hospital care. At the present time the average hospital stay under Medicare is about 13½ days, at a cost of $1,400.

Commissioner Cardwell said the increase in the deductible results from continuing increases in hospital costs, which have been increasing at rates 50% faster than the overall cost-of-living. These inflationary increases in health care costs are largely responsible for the present $12 increase in the inpatient hospital deductible.

The law requires an annual review of hospital costs under Medicare and an ajustment of the portion of the bill for which a Medicare beneficiary is responsible, if these costs have risen substantially. The law provides a formula for determining the amount of any adjustment in the deductible amount.

When a Medicare beneficiary has a hospital stay of more than 60 days, he will pay $26 a day for the 61st through the 90th day. If he has a posthospital stay of over 20 days in a skilled nursing facility, he will pay $13 per day toward the cost of the 21st through the 100th day.

SCRAMBLED EGGS — Paul Bohanan (left) and helper Allen Bunch prepare to haul a devastated egg truck out of the ditch along the south shoulder of SH29 Thursday. According to Bohanan, witnesses said the truck ran off the road about noon Thursday and flipped one and a half times before coming to rest. The driver of the vehicle suffered only minor injury, but Bohanan said "There were quite a few eggs in the grass and around the area."

WILLIAMSON COUNTY'S AGRICULTURE SECTOR was thinking about rain the past week.

For ranchers, rain is critical, John Wakefield told the SUN.

The long spell of dry weather hasn't hurt farmers that much — yet — but could get serious if it continues much longer.

CONSTRUCTION WILL BEGIN early in 1976 on streets and water lines for a new residential subdivision in Liberty Hill.

The 44 new single family residences and 24 apartment units planned will help alleviate what has become a shortage in moderately priced housing in the area.

TAKE EARLY ADVANTAGE of the Georgetown Post Office's program to handle rush mail, says Postmaster Bill Williams.

Extra trips to Austin will be made weekdays at 2 p. m. starting no later than December 15. All items mailed before noon in either the Post Office or the postal boxes just outside will arrive in Austin around 3 p. m., and will be flown or trucked out the same day.

MID-STATE TELEPHONE CO. will raise its rates by approximately 10%, following a three to one vote by members of the Hutto City Council Monday night.

The action passed on first reading.

"WE HAVE A LOT OF DEER CASES," says precinct one Justice of the Peace Bill Hill.

His office has taken in $2442 in fines for hunting violations during November alone.

During the same month last year, only $487.75 in fines was sent to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept.

Fire Dept. issues holiday safety tips

The holiday season is on the way, bringing with it a multitude of traditions and some potential fire hazards as well, says Georgetown Fire Chief Curtis Anderson.

Noting especially the dangers of Christmas decorating, Anderson issued the following safety reminders from the Georgetown Fire Department, the non-profit Underwriters Laboratory (UIL), and the Texas Department of Health Resources:

• WHEN PURCHASING your Christmas tree this year, buy one with a good green color. Needles of a fresh tree should be hard to pull from branches, and needles won't break when bent. Bounce the tree hard against the ground and you won't get a shower of needles if the tree is fresh.

• Trees should be placed in a base which holds water, and this water should be checked regularly while the tree is up. Before mounting the tree, cut about two inches off the trunk to allow it to better absorb the water.

• Placement of trees also is important. Keep them away from stoves, fireplaces and radiators which could cause a tree to dry out quickly and perhaps catch fire.

• If you are buying an artificial tree — be sure to look for the UL label which tells you it is classified as flame resistant.

• WHEN INSTALLING their trees, many people burn the trimmings from branches in their fireplaces. If burned a piece at a time, this shouldn't cause any problem. But piling up a big mound of evergreens could cause popping and crackling and a large number of sparks. So be careful. And always use a screen before the fireplace.

Also, in selecting lights, check for the Underwriters' Laboratories label. On all strings of lights, make certain that all connections are tight and that there are no frayed or bare wires. These could cause short circuits and perhaps a fire— or a shock to the person installing them.

• Outdoor lights should be waterproof. They are especially made for the outdoors.

• When away from home, or when you go to bed, turn off all lights.

• And never use electric lights on metallic trees.

• Trimmings for trees and elsewhere in the home should be of flame-retardant material, something that won't flare up if accidentally ignited.

NEVER USE lighted candles on a tree or near other evergreens, decorations or wrapping paper. Candles should be in non-flammable holders and in locations where they cannot be knocked down or blown over.

• Be sure not to overload the electrical circuits in your home. The wires that carry more current than they can handle may overheat and cause a fire. Read manufacturer's instructions on lighting strings carefully and do not use more than the recommended number of lights in one circuit.

• WHEN PURCHASING GIFTS for the people you care about take time out to check for the UL Label. Gifts of electric food blenders, hair dryers, hot combs, and the like, are tested for safety by Underwriters Laboratories.

Matches, lighters and candles should be kept out of the reach of children. Children and adults should avoid the wearing of loose, flowing clothes — especially long, open sleeves — near the open flames of a fireplace, stove or candle-lit table.

And, once those presents under the tree have been opened, gather up all those wrappings from the tree and fireplace area and remove them from the home.

Fireman Kenneth R. Salyer also noted that fireworks have presented the department a Christmastime hazard in the past.

Almanac updated

The American Revolution of 1776 set in motion events that led to the colonization of Texas and eventually to its own struggle for self government, notes the new 1976-'77 edition of the Texas Almanac, published by A. H. Belo Corporation, publishers of The Dallas Morning News.

Those historic events affecting Texas have been traced in an article written especially for the Texas Almanac by the late R. Henderson Shuffler, editor, historian and, at the time of his death in the summer of 1975, executive director of the Institute of Texan Cultures at San Antonio.

"What we call the American Revolution was simply the first stage of the revolution of the Americas," Shuffler wrote. "Texas was affected directly by the American Revolution and the course of its history for centuries to come was shaped by the outcome."

Also in the Almanac's Bicentennial section, Sam Kinch Sr., chairman of American Revolution Bicentennial Commission of Texas, tells of the American Bicentennial in Texas. A commission listing of Texas events during the bicentennial year is included.

The new edition also contains a special section on "Gardening in Texas" prepared by specialists of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. It is a guide for planting vegetables, fruit and nut trees and ornamentals in all sections of the state.

"The LBJ Hill Country," written by Art and Elise Kowert, publishers of the Fredericksburg Standard, presents a description of the home of the late Lyndon B. Johnson, 36th President of the United States.

"Nowhere else in this land is there a place where, within a distance of a few miles, the story of an American President can be retraced through visiting the settlement of his grandparents, the birthplace, boyhood home, his 'White House' away from Washington, and his ranch where he lived in retirement and where he died and is buried," they wrote.

Other special features of the new Almanac include a history of the Texas Railroad Commission, the latest U. S. Census on manufacturing, wholesale and retail trade, the service industries and transportation in Texas, an account of the 10 Travel Trails of Texas, and a history of Texas A&M University observing its 100th anniversary in 1976.

Included also are data on election results, listings of county, municipal and state officials, appointive boards and commissions, officials of state and regional civic and trade organizations, and sections on agriculture, manufacturing, transportation and government.

Each Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area, the urban concentrations in which most Texans live, has an editorial page devoted to it.

A new Texas map in color, with major highways, supplements 254 county maps, updated from maps prepared by the Texas Highway Department. Tourism and recreation also are featured, with listings of state and national parks.

"This is the 48th edition of the Texas Almanac that has been published since 1857," said Joe M. Dealey, president of The Dallas Morning News. "We believe it continues the high standards that have made this publication the Encyclopedia of Texas."

Local merchants urged to attend credit seminar

Credit — if you offer it as part of a business operation, you need to be at Highland Mall in Austin from 8 a.m. to noon Wednesday, according to the Georgetown Retail Merchants Association.

That is when the Association and four other credit bureaus will sponsor the only seminar to be held in this area dealing with new federal regulations on credit.

INFORMATION DISTRIBUTED BY the Merchants Association and the Georgetown Chamber of Commerce says three new federal laws — the Equal Credit Opportunity Act, the Fair Credit Billing Act, and the 1974 amendments to the Truth-in-Lending Act — will soon require major changes in credit operations.

Wednesday's seminar will deal with specific new provisions of these acts, including:

Requirements for periodic statements.
Disclosure requirements.
Format for billing statement.
Credit application requirements.
Restrictions on credit criteria.
Strict penalties for noncompliance.
Required credit operating procedures.

CONDUCTING THE SEMINAR will be Hugh McAfee of Sears' Governmental Relations Staff in Dallas and formerly Sears' Regional Credit Manager in Houston; and Mickey Moore of the Texas Retail Federation in Austin.

According to the Merchants Association, the seminar should be attended by representatives from every retail outlet which grants credit, every bank which makes loans, any business or professional firm offering consumer credit, and every bureau offering credit information.

Cost for the seminar, to be held in the Community Hall at Highland Mall, will be $15.00 per person and will cover handout materials.

Space is expected to be limited.

TO REGISTER, contact the Merchants and Professional Credit Bureau, P. O. Box 1623, Austin 78767. The Georgetown Chamber of Commerce will also have information on the seminar.

Sponsors include the Georgetown Retail Merchants Association; Texas Retail Federation; Consumer Credit Asociation of Austin; Credit Women International; and the Merchants and Professional Credit Bureau.

★Council to consider

also wants more money, and the Council is expected to grant it.

LCRA OFFICIALS notified the city two weeks ago that they needed approximately $40,000 immediately to cover a shortfall in utility revenues.

The Authority offered a six percent discount from that amount for immediate payment, and Mayor Joe Crawford said $38,728 would be paid LCRA from an emergency account.

If the Council approves, approximately $2.00 would be added to the average residential consumer's electricity bill each month until at least April in order to cover the payment.

IN OTHER ACTION, the Council will open and scrutinize bids to construct the raw water intake structure, the first step in a plan to make North Fork Lake the city's future source of water.

The Council has $228,000 in Community Development Funds from the federal government with which to finance the construction.

A report of the 1974-75 audit will be made, and the Council will pass on a resolution to match a grant from the Criminal Justice Council of the Governor's Office. That grant would fund a purchase of radio equipment for the Georgetown Police Department.

THE COUNCIL will also deal with four items sent to it by the Planning and Zoning Commission, including:

Second reading of an ordinance to annex property between the San Gabriel River and the MKT Railroad tracks.

Abandonment of a ten-foot utility easement between 413 and 417 Oak Crest Lane.

Approval of a recommendation to limit speed along an area of College Street to be included in annexation.

Rezoning of two lots off U.S. 81 for commercial purposes.

Vaccination day set for G'town pets

It's vaccination time for all your pets.

The City of Georgetown is sponsoring a rabies clinic for pets, giving pet owners a chance to vaccinate their animals for rabies and to purchase 1976 dog tags.

The clinic is to be held from 8:30 - 1 p. m. December 13 at the Georgetown Fire Station.

Rabies vaccine injections will cost $3, up 50 cents from 1974 injections. Dog tags remain priced at $1.

By City law, all pets within city limits must be vaccinated and tagged.
